

THE WARBURG BUGLE

The Genius Hour Project From Warburg School

Awesome news from this "Genius Hour" group of Ashley K., Calleigh S. and Jenna L. This group picked a research project that interested them and was close to their heart. The project was "Animal Rescue and Veterinarian Work". The girls raised $511.60 by selling goodies and glow sticks at the Warburg Christmas Light Up, treat bags at school, shovelling snow for a couple of people in Warburg & collecting bottles to take in for recycle. The money was donated to WHARF (Whitecourt Homeless Animal Rescue Foundation) which is located in Edmonton. Calleigh actually had adopted her dog, Reese, from WHARF which is why they chose this particular rescue.

The Genius Hour projects give the students opportunity to do extra research on subjects of particular interest to them, and certainly generated kind hearted gestures from many students toward community foundations. Please see the Warburg Bugle- December 7th edition- for another featured group.

Above: On December 6, 2018 Sew Heavenly Quilters invited Victim Services from Leduc to join them for a potluck at the Warburg Cultural Centre. After lunch, quilts and afghans were presented to Victim Services. A good time was had by all.

The extreme cold weather cancelled not only buses on February 4th-6th but also our visit from a penguin! Parent School Council is providing the K-6 students with the opportunity to see an African penguin up close and personal in our Performing Arts Centre. This event will now happen on February 21st. A $2.00 donation per student is certainly appreciated to help offset the cost of this visit. The cold weather also hampered our Elementary skating plans! The Breakfast Program

With the winter chill upon us, thank goodness the ground hog never saw his shadow and we will get an early spring.

The Volunteers –

I would like to thank all our volunteers who help with the breakfast program. Nancy Swartz, Sandy MacLean, Jeanette Shymanski, Sandra Jacobsen, Pastor Cody Lewis and Patricia Heaton. These volunteers serve breakfast in the morning with a smile and enjoy conversations with the students. Some bake, cook and shop for the program such as baking with leftover fruit, supplies. Along with the volunteers, we have the strong support of our teaching staff, office staff and janitorial staff. They are there when help is needed and don't mind stepping in to help us out. Special mention to thank students who help unload groceries and the leadership team with cleanup, coaches with team assistance from the players on the basketball, volleyball teams and the home EC class who make the best jelly ever.

The Community –

The school receives monetary donations for our program from several individuals who like to remain anonymous, these funds are greatly appreciated and attribute to the great menu we can serve these students. There are those who also donate goods to help the program be the success that it is, some of you have been with us for a long time and are considered a very strong part of this program. You reduce our costs, and supply us with goods that are a basis in this program.

Thank you everyone.

The Menu –

We are always being asked what we are serving besides toast, fruit and beverages. Well, we get some hot dog buns and turn them into "long johns" topped with butter and cinnamon, cheese whiz, cream cheese, jelly, jam or Laura Secord chocolate spread. We get tortillas and they become chocolate roll ups, cheese rollups, cheese quesadillas, cinnamon chips. We are given bananas and they are used up in chocolate chip cupcakes, banana chocolate roll ups, banana bread. We are given eggs and they become boiled eggs, a big hit with the boys and senior students. We are given potatoes and they become cheese hash browns, or cheesy potatoes. We receive baking from community members who make big batches of cookies and jars of jam for our toast. Oh, all of it so good!

Budgets –

We are on budgets with our breakfast grants and must meet the criteria outline by them as to what we have to serve, how often we have the program running, and accountability of all the funds. We received a great donation for beverages from Capital Power in the name of Audrey Kelto who worked with them as a community member for years and they wanted to honor her. She honored us by donating these funds to the Breakfast Program and other programs at Warburg School. Audrey is a big fan of our program and always likes to hear about the students.

Food Savings –

Fruit and vegetables are getting expensive up 3%, moving up to 5% by end of the year. We have received some great suggestions from folks in the community.

Always check at the discount racks at the end of each week in the stores and you will find fruit or vegetables that are ripe at a much-reduced price. These are all good to eat, you can always freeze them until you need them.

Motts Fruit Sensations fruit cups are always a good buy for lunches, snacks and baking. Always on sale alternately between grocery stores, see your flyers.

Cheese of all sorts - yes, we still need our dairy – in coolers for ½ the price. Shred it and freeze for pizza breads, toppings and cheese bread.

Meat has dropped by 4% and there are always sales on these items. We can all write a recipe on 100 ways to eat hamburger.

Milk can be frozen; yogurt tubes are always on sale by the end of the week and make great snacks and lunch treats.

Thanks to all who made those suggestions.

If you or your business is interested in helping the Breakfast Program at Warburg School, please contact the office at 780 848 2822. If you are interested in volunteering, please contact Deb at 780 848 2923.

This community thrives on volunteers who are the main structure for all groups, clubs and associations. Remember to support your local businesses, volunteer to help someone in need, help your neighbour, and sometimes just say Hi.

Public input needed to help shape RCMP policing priorities

Local RCMP detachments are looking for public input to help set policing priorities for the year ahead.

Each year, RCMP from the Leduc and Thorsby/Breton detachments are tasked with establishing policing priorities to ensure that, in addition to responding to calls for service, members focus on the issues the public thinks is most important.

Residents in the Leduc County area -- including the City of Leduc, towns of Calmar and Thorsby, and Village of Warburg -- are encouraged to share their top three policing priorities in a three-minute online survey.

This feedback provides our members with a true understanding of the areas our citizens are most concerned about, so we can best direct our resources and build safer communities.

Dale Kendall, Leduc RCMP inspector and detachment commander

Local policing priorities will be determined based on the feedback the RCMP receives from the communities it serves.

What works in one location might not work in the neighbouring town. Every community has different needs and this survey allows us to adapt our approach to the unique needs of the communities we serve. Harp Dhaliwal, Thorsby/Breton RCMP detachment commander

This survey has been conducted annually since 2015 and feedback has influenced policing priorities. The survey is open from Feb. 1 to 28 and can be accessed at surveymonkey.com/RCMP2019; print copies are available at the Leduc and Thorsby/Breton RCMP stations.

The City of Leduc and Leduc County have partnered with the RCMP to conduct this brief survey to ensure that policing priorities align with those of the public.

From Kieran Quirke,
Alberta NDP Candidate
for Drayton Valley-Devon

Why the Supreme Court of Canada decision on Orphan Well Cleanup is Good for Alberta

The Supreme Court of Canada ruled in favour of the “polluter-pays” principle with the decision that Energy companies must fulfill their environmental obligations before paying back creditors in the case of their insolvency or bankruptcy.

This is critical to Alberta’s role as a responsible energy producer. I believe that when properly interpreted, the federal Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act does not permit an oil and gas license holder to walk away from end-of-life obligations. The vast majority of companies are responsible and play by the rules, but we need to be protected from those few that don’t.

This decision means Albertans are protected from irresponsible operators, and working families won’t have to pay for the financial and environmental liabilities left behind when companies walk away from their social, economic, and environmental obligations.

The Alberta Government, the Alberta Energy Regulator (AER), the Orphan Well Association (OWA), and the Warburg Pembina Surface Rights Group, among others, still have to complete a thorough review of this decision, but all are pleased by this progress.

I talked with Karl Zajes, President of the Warburg Pembina Surface Rights Group, who said, “This is an important, positive decision with beneficial changes for landowners across Alberta.”

This government has been cleaning up orphan wells faster than ever before. In December 2017, the Alberta Government provided a $235M loan to support and increase OWA’s efforts, to be repaid by the OWA through the annual Orphan Fund Levy starting this year. So far, over 2,400 wells have been cleaned up, creating over 1,600 jobs through over 200 Alberta contractors.

And, this government tightened up the rules by closing a loophole to keep the few irresponsible companies off the landscape – known as AER Directive 67.

This included fixing the system for assessing corporate risk, ensuring companies that don’t play by the rules, or get behind on payments to landowners, are flagged and tagged sooner. It also takes a thorough look at hard timelines and targets for operators to clean wells. This was important considering some have been inactive for over a decade.

The Notley government also made it easier for communities and industry to work together on cleaning up more sites in a single area for the same amount of money by introducing the Area-based Closure System. It has also given landowners more of a voice if inactive wells near them are posing a problem.

Overall, this decision from the Supreme Court of Canada is good for industry, good for landowners, and good for the environment. It’s how business and community should work together.

As your Alberta NDP Candidate for Drayton Valley-Devon, I’m always happy to speak with you about the issues that matter in rural Alberta and in our communities. I want to hear your thoughts on issues and plans that will affect our province, our community, and your family.

If you have any questions or concerns, or you would like to get involved, please write to me at DraytonValley-Devon@albertaNDP.ca I look forward to hearing from you!
