

THE BRETON BOOSTER

There Is Nothing To Do!!!!

From the Breton Ag Society

The Breton Ag Society is having a very busy fall and we have a lot planned for you and your family to participate in, so we don't think you will hear this much in the months to come.

On Friday, Oct 25th we will be hosting a Fall Family Supper and Dance in conjunction with the Breton High School Class of 2020 Silent Auction. The Ukrainian meal will be supplied by Star-Kist Catering and followed by a family dance with music by Gary Mastre. The Silent Auction will run from 5:00 pm until approximately 9 pm. Tickets will be available at the door, so come take in a meal, support a local fundraiser and enjoy a night out all in one evening. Watch for more details around town or check out our website or Facebook page.

On November 16 and 17 we will be sponsoring a Standard First Aid Course for all community members. To take this course on your own you will pay upwards of $100. We will supply the course and lunch for both days at a cost of $60. If you need to be recertified or are interested in taking the course for the first time this is a great opportunity. Please register early as we can only take 18 participants. Registrations are being accepted at the Breton ATB.

On Sunday, December 1st we are hosting our second Annual Home Business Expo. This is a vendor market for local home businesses to display their goods for sale to the public. We are current looking for local home businesses that would like to participate. Cost is $20 and registration forms can be picked up at the Breton ATB or on our website. Added this year is photos with Santa. Have a picture taken with Santa for $15 with $5 from every picture being donated to the Breton Christmas Wishes. Your picture will be electronically sent to you so that you can print off as many copies as you would like for your family and friends. This is going to be a great chance to buy some fabulous Christmas presents.

The Breton Ag Society is always looking for new members, volunteers and suggestions. If you have an event and you would like to partner with us let one of our membership know. We love to hear from you and you DO NOT have to attend a meeting to become involved.

As with all of our events you can check out our website www.bretonagsociety.com or Facebook page "Breton Agricultural Society" for more details. We are always changing things as per your suggestions so please keep sending us your opinions! We look forward to seeing you and your family soon!

Women's Wellness Day

On October 19th I had the pleasure of attending the Women's Wellness Day organized by Deanne Young, Breton FCSS. This event was so very well organized, fun and full of great information I just wanted to say a big thank you to Deanne and her helpers. Please watch for a reflection on the Women's Day in the next publication.

Brazeau County Snow Plow Program

The Brazeau County Public Works Department is responsible for the removal of snow on all municipal roads. In addition to this compulsory service, a user-pay program to remove snow from private driveways has been in place for several years. This program excludes hamlets.

Residents must sign an agreement form available at the Brazeau County office. An existing agreement may be updated by phone. No private property will be entered without a signed agreement.

The first clearing will be provided at no charge. All subsequent clearings will be at $60.00 /hour, or portion thereof, with a minimum charge of $20.00. Residents will be invoiced for such charges. It is Brazeau County's policy to discontinue services to accounts remaining outstanding.

Driveway snow clearing does not involve custom snow clearing of yards. It involves a pass in and out on the driveway. If custom clearing is required, the resident should make arrangements with private contractors.

The sign issued when an agreement is completed must be placed at the end of your driveway, numbers facing the road only when you require snow removal. At all other times, the sign should be turned so numbers are not visible or it should be removed. This will avoid unnecessary snow removal for which you will be charged.

Exemptions: Exemptions over and above the standard one plowing at no cost is being offered to households where an able-bodied individual does not reside on the premises. More specifically, this could apply to seniors (who live alone on the property), disabled or handicapped individuals, and widows who cannot carry out the work themselves. Individuals must sign the declaration stating their eligibility.

Emergency Access: Individuals who require emergency access must make their own provisions. Main roads are of a higher priority than private driveways and are a mandatory responsibility of this municipality. Private driveway maintenance will be of no value if major roadways are not passable for emergency vehicles.

Private Contractors: There are private contractors who can be contacted regarding driveway maintenance. If you require immediate snow clearing of driveways, please contact one of these businesses.

If you have concerns or work requests related to snow removal, the private driveway maintenance policy, or wish to discuss this subject in greater detail, please contact the Public Works Department at 780-542-7777.

REMEMBER
WINTER CONDITIONS REQUIRE SAFE WINTER DRIVING PRACTICES
PLEASE DRIVE SAFELY AND IN ACCORDANCE WITH ROAD CONDITIONS

Looking for a Volunteer Opportunity this Fall- consider the Big Buddy Mentoring Program – For the past several years Breton FCSS together with Breton Elementary and the Family Wellness Worker have offered a mentorship program called Big Buddies. The program has been very effective. Big Buddies involves partnering students with a mentor from the community. The program is 100% dependent on volunteer mentors from the community. Big Buddies is a volunteer adult mentoring program funded by FCSS that occurs at the Breton Elementary School (BES). Adults are matched with students who would prosper from positive interactions. The Big Buddy commits 1 – 2 hours of their time a month to come to the school, typically at lunch time, to do an activity with the student. All adults engaged in the Big Buddy program must have a current criminal record and child welfare checks completed. All Big Buddies will be orientated, and assistance will be given by the Family Wellness Worker (FWW). If would like to make a difference in your community and the life of a child please call Brenda Huntley FWW at Breton Elementary School 780 696- 3555.

Do You Love Halloween? – Breton FCSS is pleased to have the Breton High School Grad Class of 2020 co-ordinating and hosting the Halloween Hoopla and the Haunted House. If you would like to donate candy to our Community Halloween Event, please stop by the Village office with your donation and we will provide you with a sign for your door. The evening will be filled full of games, activities, treats and of course the haunted house. More details to come.

Covenant Corner

from Pastor Jeff Gooderham

A 12-year-old boy, named David, was born without an immune system. He underwent a bone marrow transplant in order to correct the deficiency. Up to that point he had spent his entire life in a plastic bubble in order to prevent exposure to common germs, bacteria, and viruses that could kill him. He lived without ever knowing human touch. When asked what he'd like to do if and when released from his protective bubble, he replied, "I want to walk barefoot on the grass, and hold my mother's hand."

There is something powerful about the touch of another. Human touch can bring many different results; it can be one of violence, as in a punch. It can be one of impatience, as in a push to keep moving or make space. It can be one of agreement, as in a handshake. Or it can be one of love, as in a hug or embrace or helping hand. In the book of Mark chapter 1 verse 41 we are told the story of a leper, one who no one could ever touch for fear of contracting the same disease. The lepers were banished from community forced to live isolated desperate lives. One such leper came to Jesus and knelt before Him, the Bible says that Jesus was moved by compassion and He reached out His hand and He did the unthinkable, He touched the leper. That touch brought life, it brought healing, it brought worth and value.

Can we look around at our neighbours, our families, even our enemies, and be moved by compassion, be moved by love, enough to reach out and touch someone? It begins with one simple touch at a time.

Talking about money is sexy

Financial health – or rather, the lack of it – can be a romance killer. Financial issues are among the biggest reasons why couples split up.* In fact, it's been estimated that money problems are the prime cause of 90% of divorces. So, if you're entering a relationship, already in one, or newly married, how do you talk about what could be the biggest elephant in your emotional room: your personal finances as they are now and as you want them to be through your life together?

The experts tell us that communication, building trust, and honesty are vital keys to healthy relationships. And that's why talking about money is sexy – because it's a very good way to be open and honest with your partner while taking necessary positive steps for building your relationship and a solid financial future together.

Here are some tips for successfully integrating your financial lives fairly and in ways that match your shared lifestyle.

- Never keep big or small financial secrets! Each of you should disclose assets, financial commitments (such as loans) and credit history. Full disclosure is a must because if you're considering sharing a credit card or applying for a loan together, your partner's bad credit history could lead to some unpleasant surprises.
- Recognize your differences. You may be a saver; your partner may be a spender – create a financial framework and budget that suits both of you.
- Decide if it's best to maintain separate bank accounts, credit cards and investments or to merge some or all of these financial items to eliminate duplication and enhance financial benefits. (For example, by pooling your investments you may enjoy a more robust portfolio.) Make your decisions with a clear understanding of tax and legal implications.
- Decide who will manage day-to-day finances – paying the bills and so on – and who will manage your overall financial affairs. If one or both of you brought personal assets into the relationship – a car or home, for example – should you keep them or sell them?

- Have a frank discussion about how you are going to achieve your financial goals such as buying a home or starting a family. Talk about your finances and financial goals regularly.
- A marriage contract or prenuptial agreement isn't the most romantic notion. But they're especially important if you want to exclude certain assets from an equalization of family property upon relationship breakdown, like a business or family cottage, or to protect assets for children from a prior relationship. Don't wait for irreconcilable differences to arise before speaking with a family lawyer.
- Plan to save on taxes. Although couples must file separate individual tax returns, there are many tax-planning strategies that can reduce your total tax bill now and in the future. Take advantage of all your deductions and income-splitting opportunities including, where appropriate, pension income-splitting and/or spousal Registered Retirement Savings Plans (spousal RRSPs), both of which can deliver tax savings.
- Arrange life, disability and other insurance coverage to ensure each of you is protected if one partner becomes disabled or dies.
- Whatever you do, be open about your finances and try to make decisions together.

Yes, talking about money is sexy and necessary for the good health of your relationship and financial future together. Your professional advisor can help you build the right financial plan for your shared future.
