Thorsby/Warburg Nurse Practitioner Ready To Start Seeing Patients

From Primary Care Network
Leduc Beaumont Devon

Announced last month, the underserved towns of Thorsby and Warburg, and their surrounding communities, are going to be receiving primary care support from a dedicated Nurse Practitioner NP). Michelle Williams, NP, has been hired by the Leduc Beaumont Devon Primary Care Network (LBD PCN) through a grant provided by the Government of Alberta via the Nurse Practitioner Support Program.

Space for the Thorsby and Warburg Nurse Practitioner-Led Clinics has been secured and while minor renovations to the spaces are being completed, Michelle will begin “meet and greets” with potential patients at the LBD PCN office in Leduc starting March 16th. If you live in Thorsby or Warburg or their surrounding communities and do NOT have a family physician, you can request a meet and greet with the Nurse Practitioner by calling 780-986-6624.

After your meet and greet, if you then think that the Nurse Practitioner is a good fit for you, you would then agree that Michelle will be your primary care provider and you will be counted on her patient panel. This means that you will see the Nurse Practitioner for your health care needs whenever possible. As a patient of an LBD PCN health care professional, you are then able to access any of the programs and services offered at the PCN.

Michelle will provide health services to individuals, families, and communities including health promotion, disease and injury prevention, and treatment of acute and chronic illness. NPs provide healthcare that is grounded in nursing care and includes the physical, emotional, social, and psychological aspects of your health. NPs can:

- Diagnose and treat illness and injury
- Perform physical examinations and screening interventions
- Order and interpret diagnostic tests, such as lab tests and x-rays
- Provide counselling and education
- Refer you to other healthcare professionals and specialists
- Prescribe medications
- Manage chronic diseases such as diabetes, COPD

To find out about programs and services offered at the LBD PCN, please see our website <http://lbdpcn.com/Programs/Pages/default.aspx>. Leduc Beaumont Devon Primary Care Network #301 4710 - 50th Street Leduc, AB Phone: (780) 986-6624

FRASER (THE ENFORCER) FILIPIC
Part 1 of 2

Fraser grew up in Thorsby playing hockey with his older brothers on the backyard rink constructed by dad Marjan. He first laced 'em up at the age of three, and, over the next few years spent countless hours practicing skating and shooting.

After proceeding through the ranks of Thorsby Minor Hockey and getting as far as Pee-Wee he by-passed Bantam and jumped directly to Midget in Warburg where he played two years (1994-1996). He was coached by Marjan in both Thorsby and Warburg. Although he skipped Bantam hockey this was not the case with fastball. In 1995, as a member of the Leduc team, he made it to the Alberta Summer Games.

After playing one year of Midget AA in Leduc he moved up to the Leduc Oil Kings AAA (1997-98). At the end of that season he was invited to the AJHL Lloydminster Blazers camp and after suffering a dislocated shoulder was sent back to Leduc where he put in the 1998-99 season. As good fortune would have it he got to play in the elite Calgary Macs Midget Tournament and was once more recruited by the Blazers. This time he made the team and played for Lloyd. until 2001, potting 16 goals his first season.

Blazers coach Gord Thibodeau left during the 2000 season and at this juncture Fraser requested a trade after playing twelve games for the team that year. He was then dealt to the Fort McMurray Oil Barons where he finished out the 2001 season. This was his final year of Junior A. He was admitted to Grant MacEwen College but received a phone call that changed the direction of his hockey career. A group of Northern Coloradans, which included former Montreal Canadiens great and six-time Stanley Cup winner Ralph Backstrom, were sponsoring a new franchise in the pro Central Hockey League. This would be the Colorado Eagles and would be based in Loveland, Colo., just outside Fort Collins. These interested parties built the Budweiser Events Center with a seating capacity of 5,280. Now the search was on for players.

The new Eagles coach would be Chris Stewart, a friend of former Lloydminster coach, Gord Thibodeau. On Thibodeau's recommendation Stewart phoned Fraser who became the first player signed by the organization even though he had been out of hockey for approximately two years. The odds were stacked against him in the fall of 2003 when training camp opened. The try-out roster was stacked with former NHL'ers, major junior players and college players from top ranked schools. However, something in Fraser's background shortened these odds. Anyone who follows hockey knows that in the pro game it is a decided plus if your hands are fast and you can throw a left hook to the liver. Despite his relatively small stature he proved the old adage that "it's not the size of the dog in the fight but the size of the fight in the dog". Ultimately he made the team and went on to a seven year career with the Eagles. In both 2005 and 2007 they won the Presidents Cup, symbolic of the league championship. During this time they also set the record for consecutive sell-outs at the BEC, night after night playing in front of a roaring crowd of 5,280. For Fraser the second championship was special as his mother, Diane, was there to celebrate with him.

Over his hockey career he achieved other awards besides the two championship rings with the Eagles. As a member of the Lloydminster Blazers he received the Captains Award and in Fort McMurray the Unsung Hero Award. During his time with the Eagles he was, in the Best of the Best poll, twice voted Best Fighter Lb. for Lb. by his peers. He was also voted one of the six "Players of the Decade" for the Eagles. In a try-out for the Chicago Black Hawks AHL affiliate (Norfolk Admirals) he made it to the final cut.

MLA REPORT

from The Office of MLA Mark Smith,
Member of the Legislative Assembly
for Drayton Valley - Devon

Balancing the Budget

Last year, in Budget 2019, we introduced a balanced, prudent and thoughtful four-year plan to eliminate the largest deficit in Alberta's history while maintaining essential services and supporting the most vulnerable Albertans.

Budget 2020 continues this plan, and we are on track to balance Alberta's budget by fiscal year 2022-23. In fact, the projected deficit has decreased even faster than we initially planned. This year's deficit will be $1.2 billion dollars less than we had projected in Budget 2019. Our government spends around $2 billion every year just to service our debt. This works out to nearly $5 and a half million a day! That's enough money to buy 30 ambulances every day, build a new school every week, or pave the QEII from Calgary to Red Deer every month.

Getting back to balance is the first step towards paying down our debt and redirecting this money towards the front-line services that Albertans rely on. Our plan involves reducing government's operating spending by 2.8 per cent, less than three cents on the dollar, over the four-year fiscal plan. This is both responsible and fair.

Budget 2020 is also about creating jobs. The Alberta 2020 budget changes will make Alberta more competitive than other jurisdictions, encouraging sustainable diversification, and while rewarding innovation. We are attracting private investment to Alberta with the Job Creation Tax Cut. This will reduce Alberta's corporate income tax rate to 8 per cent by 2022. And we are already seeing results from this initiative:

For example, CNRL, Mainstreet Equity and others have made big investments here in part because of our lower tax regime and Capital Cost Allowance.

In addition, our commitment to reducing red tape by one third by the end of 2023 is removing major obstacles and creating opportunities for business to expand and hire Albertans. This will allow businesses to focus on their bottom line, improve their revenues, and hire Albertans instead of wasting time navigating burdensome regulatory hoops.

Budget 2020 also underlines our commitment to Albertans to get the best value for their tax dollars and to maintain funding for health care, social services and education. We've kept that promise. There have not been any funding cuts to health or education. In fact, we will be funding Health and Education at record levels:

Health Care has a slight increase to its budget coming out at $20.6 billion.

Education has a small increase to its budget at $8.3 billion.

Community and Social Services $3.9 billion and Children's Services at $1.6 billion.

We are also re-focusing how dollars are spent to ensure that funding is sent straight to the front line and are supporting Albertans who need it most. The new funding formula in education is designed to give school boards predictability in their budgets and ensure that education dollars are going to the classroom where they are needed most.

We will reduce overall expenses and are making prudent investments that will pay off this year, and in years to come. Budget 2020 takes the steps we need to take to rebuild the ground we lost during the past 5 years. The fiscal plan that started in 2019 is still strong, still in place, and already proving successful. We are on track.
