

THE BRETON BOOSTER

"School Days Dear Old Golden Rule Days"

From Allan Goddard

Recent discussions regarding the reconfiguration of the Breton schools started the Museum Staff thinking about all the changes that have taken place in the education of Breton students over the last ninety plus years. One of the first public buildings to be established when a community was founded was a school, to serve the educational requirements of the community, and this was no different in Breton.

In 1927, shortly after the founding of the hamlet of Breton, a one room school was established on the same site as the present-day Breton Elementary School. The teacher was Mr. Dan McLeod, with 27 students. Prior to 1927, the children of Sam and Neoma Hooks would have attended school at Funnell, a walk of about 5 kms. The other possibility for students living east of Breton was the Modeste Valley School, located southeast of Breton in the Wenham Valley area.

Within ten years, the enrollment grew to where different options had to be implemented. In 1935, the class was spilt into a junior and senior class, with the lower grades staying at the one room school and the senior classes being held in the United Church which was located on the site of the present-day Treasury Branch. The pews were removed from one side of the church and replaced with desks. The increase in enrollment, and two classes, required the teaching staff to double from one teacher to two.

In the early 1940s, the Wenham Valley School senior classes were moved to Breton, and an additional room was added to the first school in about 1945. An additional staff member was also added at this time, relieving Mrs. Henkel of about half of her 50 students. The Antross School was later moved to Breton for use as a classroom, and then as the first Industrial Arts Lab. Continued inside...

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I wonder if any news stations will be coming out to interview the Village of Breton staff or the council members about the hate mail and nasty phone calls they have received since the news story about the idiot who has the nazi and confederate flag flying who by the way lives in Brazeau County?

#1- This guy has no affiliation with the Village of Breton whatsoever. I don't know a single person who would say this guy is their friend.

#2- Our community celebrates the history of African American pioneers that settled here, in fact our museum/historical society has made that one of the top priorities for many years.

#3- The people who felt the need to come and protest across the street from the RCMP detachment were ignorant of our community, had no idea of our town and it's history. Why didn't they go protest at the guy's driveway who has these flags up?

The news stories portrayed our community in a bad light and it sickens me that the only time these "big city" news stations ever have a story about rural/small town Alberta it is about a drug bust, some other criminal activity or some blown up, sensational crap like this story. They never tell the whole story.

There are many good things and many good people in our community! I would sure as heck much rather be here in Breton than in the big city. Especially when things get bad. Here in Breton neighbors help each other, we don't discriminate and we are certainly not racist.

Sincerely,
Darren Aldous

"School Days Dear Old Golden Rule Days"

The building which now houses the museum was built in 1947-48 and opened for the 1948-49 school term. Tom Impey, President of the Breton and District Historical Society, was one of the students who entered grade seven when it opened, with Mrs. Mabel McCartney as his teacher. Look for a more detailed story on this building in next week's Booster.

The early 1950's saw the start of the "Baby Boomer" children reach school age, and the closing of one room schools such as New Moose Hill and Funnel. This led to an increased student population and there was again the need to expand and upgrade school facilities to accommodate the class sizes. The first of two additions to the present-day Elementary school were constructed to meet this need, and staff added. All grades continued to be accommodated at this site.

In 1954-55, then School Superintendent, Dr. E. Hodgson purchased ten acres from the Huntley estate for school expansion, and the first three classrooms were constructed on the present High School site. For the next few years this school was used as an elementary school and a further addition was made to the site in 1958, adding more classrooms, a library, gymnasium, and an administration area. The school now became the Junior /Senior High school and the elementary site was used for grades 1-6, although both schools continued to be served by one administration.

The 1960's continued to bring major changes to the schools in Breton. A 1964 addition to the high school added more classrooms, a science lab, and an Industrial Arts Lab. The following year Breton Elementary received another addition. In 1966-67 the two schools came under separate administrations, with Mr. Wynnyk becoming the principal of the High School and, Mr. Davidson the principal of the Elementary School.

Many changes have taken place to the schools in Breton over the last nine decades and one has to remember that the only constant in life is change. It will be interesting to see what those changes will be for the schools in Breton over the next few years.

Winfield Pre-Kindergarten Meet the teacher

~~Sherry Jensen~~

Sherry Jensen (pictured right) has a long list of accomplishments with children and with teaching children. She is the proud mother of 3 grown children and grandmother to 3 granddaughters. While raising her children, she ran a day-home in Edmonton for 12 years. From there she moved to Fort McMurray in 1995 and went to college for Early Childhood Development. Upon completion she worked as a Special Needs Teacher Assistant from 1997 – 2002 working with mainly autistic children.

2002 brought another move, back to Edmonton, where she worked with both school boards as a Teacher's Assistant for special needs children; mostly autistic children. This work continued until 2006 when she was once again relocated, this time to Calgary. Once in Calgary she worked within the Catholic School board with children with various needs. During her 7 years with the Catholic School board, she worked with children on the autism spectrum, children with selective mutism, Fetal Alcohol Syndrome, speech/reading recovery in the Elementary schools.

In 2013 she moved to Hoadley area and began work as Educational Assistant in the Kindergarten classroom in Winfield Elementary School. In 2014 Sherry was hired as the teacher for the Winfield Pre-Kindergarten and has been with the program ever since.

If you are interested in our program or coming out to meet the teacher in person, and take a peek at our facility at the Winfield Elementary School, contact Sherry Jensen at (403) 998-9477 for more information. sajensen@cciwireless.ca

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

Time For Some Financial Spring Cleaning

Spring is here and for many that means a fresh beginning and the time to spruce things up. This year, as you tidy up your home and surroundings, why not also consider some financial spring cleaning?

Here are a few ideas for getting your financial house in order:

“De-clutter” your portfolio

Over the years, many of us tend to pick up duplicate items that find their way into the nooks and crannies of our homes, gathering dust and remaining unused. Over time, your investment portfolio can also accumulate redundancies – that is, you might own several investments that are essentially similar. It might be appropriate to replace some of these and broaden your holdings.

Own your investments purposefully

You own certain things for certain reasons – a broom to sweep the floors, a microwave to heat the food and so on. As an investor, you should be following a goal-based strategy that includes the matching of certain investments with certain objectives. For example, you might own stocks or mutual funds to eventually provide the capital appreciation potential you’ll need to retire comfortably. But you might also own other vehicles, such as bonds or other fixed-income investments, to provide you with a source of regular income.

“Dust off” your investment strategy

Over a long winter, your windows can get dirty and grimy, so, when spring arrives, you may want to get out the glass cleaner – and when you’re done, you’ll be able to see out more clearly. Over time, your investment strategy may get somewhat “dusty,” too, especially if you’ve experienced significant changes in your life, such as a new job, a new child or even a new plan for retirement. By periodically reviewing your investment strategy, you’ll be able to clarify your vision for the future.

Protect yourself from hidden dangers

If you poke around your garage, shed or other storage area, you may well find some objects – gardening tools, paint thinners and engine fluids, leaning ladders and so on – that could be dangerous, either because they aren’t stored properly or they’re hard to see and can cause trips and falls. As part of your spring cleaning, you’d want to get these objects out of harm’s way to safeguard yourself and your family. But when you think of your financial situation, are you also exposing yourself and your loved ones to risk? If something were to happen to you, could your family members stay in their home? Could your children still attend post-secondary school? To help keep their lifestyle intact if you weren’t around, you’ll need adequate life insurance. And to avoid burdening your grown children with potentially huge expenses should you ever need some type of long-term care, such as an extended nursing home stay, you may want to talk to a financial advisor about protection strategies.

By taking some spring-cleaning measures, you can brighten your living space for the seasons ahead. And by applying some of the same principles to your financial environment, you can help improve the prospects for meeting your important goals.

Preacher's Point

from Pastor Jeff Gooderham

Vision: the capacity to create a compelling picture of the desired state of affairs that inspires people to respond; that which is desirable, which could be, should be; that which is attainable. A godly vision is right for the times, right for the church, and right for the people. A godly vision promotes faith rather than fear. A godly vision motivates people to action. A godly vision requires risk-taking. A godly vision glorifies God, not people.

"Therefore we fix our eyes not on what is seen, but on what is unseen. For what is seen is temporary, but what is unseen, that is eternal!" 2nd Corinthians 4:18
