THE BRETON BOOSTER

Let's Celebrate Our Seniors From Breton FCSS

Seniors Week – How Can You, as A Community Member, Get Involved? – June 7 – 11 is being recognized as Seniors Week in Alberta. There are some great ways that you can show the older adults in our community that they are appreciated and that we value the contributions they have made to our community and province.

- Thank the senior citizens you know for their contributions
- Think about the older adults that you know. Some of them are veterans. They may have fought bravely for our country. Some were teachers who may have assisted you during your formative vears.
- Volunteer to help a local senior with a project or do an errand for them.
- You can make a difference in a senior citizen's life in many ways.

- Encourage others on social media to do something nice for a senior citizen that day
- Think of all the silly things you post on your social media accounts. Instead of sharing another silly video, let them know National Senior Citizen Day is approaching. Encourage them to do something nice for a senior citizen.
- · Interview senior citizens about their life
- Think of all the historical events that the seniors in your life experienced. Ask your senior friend about their life. No matter how they grew up, you're sure to hear some interesting stories.
- Help a senior in need
- Do you have a senior citizen living in your community? Do they need rides to the doctor's office?
- Do your senior neighbors need help with their yard or cleaning windows? Or taking something to the local landfill.
- Write positive messages on the sidewalk where an older adult walks around the community. If you need chalk, packages will be available from Breton FCSS during the week of June 7 – 11.

Clifford Sather March 7, 1945 - May 21, 2021

Clifford was born March 7, 1945 in Warburg, AB to Lars and Mary Sather. He grew up in a house located east across from the school. His mom and dad owned land across from the school to the east where the bush is today and south to just the other side of Hylands and north up to the end of the school. Eventually they sold most of the land and kept enough for the house. Clifford attended Warburg School. After school, he would go to the pool hall to get his hair cut where he met Joe Koblos who had a honeybee farm just south of Warburg and would cut hair in his spare time. Joe would always give him a chocolate bar and took him under his wing and would always call Clifford his son. When Clifford was 14 years old, he would go to Joe's place after school and holidays and would help him with the bees. In 1959, Clifford went with Joe to California in April to pick up honeybee packages. Joe would even let him drive — Clifford was only 15 years old at the time. Joe had a 1959 Chev 3 ton truck/van at the time. In 1960 Clifford quit school and started working for Joe full time. In 1962, Clifford shipped his first barrel of honey to Alta Honey Co-op as a member. He was only 17 years old. Clifford and Joe kept making trips to California in April to pick up honeybees. They would make 3-4 trips every April. As Joe got older and couldn't make the trips, Clifford would take another person with him and finally had to quit these trips in 1986 when the US border was closed due to mites in honeybees. Joe and Clifford became partners in 1968. Clifford took the business over in 1985 as Joe could not do it anymore.

Clifford married Dianna Dool from Thorsby on October 2, 1971. They had 3 children: Sherry, Sheldon and Shawn. Joe and Clifford went half and half and built a house in July, 1971. Joe lived downstairs with his own kitchen, living room, bedroom and bathroom. Clifford and Dianna lived upstairs. We lived together as a family. Joe had a stroke and in September of 1986, Joe moved to Cloverleaf Manor until he passed away on January 25, 1987 at the age of 85 years. In the late 80's, Clifford started collecting scrap iron from farmers and breaking it down into different metals. He would also haul vehicles in too. He did this as a hobby for something to do in the fall and winter months after the bee season was done. Clifford and Dianna kept on with the bee business until May, 2010. They quit because there was a lack of help and it was too much work for them to keep on. They sold the bee equipment and business. After the bee business was gone, Clifford kept on doing his scrap iron as a hobby. He also did snow removal, rototilling and hauling dirt for people. Clifford worked hard all his life, but he took pride in keeping the yard and place very tidy. He landscaped his own yard. He enjoyed sitting on the patio and admiring his yard.

Clifford passed away suddenly on May 21, 2021 at the age of 76 years. He leaves to mourn his wife, Dianna, of 49 years; daughter Sherry (Mike) Grizell and sons Sheldon and Shawn; grandson Clayton (Katelynn) and grand-daughter Leilay (Ryan); great-granddaughters Zahara, Raiza and Izaleah; sister Bea Wayne; brother Johnny Sather; brother-in-law Cyril Dool; sisters-in-law Shirly Dool and Diana Dool; as well as numerous nieces and nephews.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to charity of your choice.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Here are a few thoughts about the Rural Municipalities Association (RMA) based on my limited experiences with this organization.

This writer requested time to make a presentation to the RMA concerning Council issues based on several corporate reviews done in my county. The response was negative. One would think that such an organization that purports to be for the citizens would be gracious enough to hear from them.

"... the AAMDC (now RMA) has made it our mission to insure the interest of Alberta municipalities are effectively represented ..." Should this not be in the interest of the citizens? It costs Brazeau taxpayers $19000 annually to support this organization. What does the taxpayer receive in return?

Should we not expect that a code of ethics is a part of their policy. The only reference I could find on the RMA website to councillor conduct is that Council have a "code of conduct."

There is no reference to "code of ethics" that many other organizations have; e.g., teachers, doctors, accountants, etc., including investigation of and penalties for contravention. In other words, if a ratepayer(s) has an issue re councillor actions or behaviour, he/she has nowhere/one to go to for rectification. Why is there no mechanism available for investigation of councillors? The Province is notoriously weak in this regard.

Citizens only need to phone the appropriate government agency for any other issue in society such as traffic behaviour, chemical spills, personal threats of one kind or another, but have no recourse to deal with Councillor behaviour/actions. Petitioning and government action is a joke. So much for local government accountability. It appears to this writer that one can have the most incompetent/corrupt Council and not have any recourse.

Does RMA investigate to see if counties follow their public engagement strategy? If not, why not?

If so, how? Why have 42 pages of policy if they aren't used?

At a recent public meeting, the current RMA president stated that the oil and gas industry owes back taxes near $245 million (average $3 million per county province-wide, plus education taxes, prepaid by the county and not collected).

According to my information. "The Supreme Court of Canada has confirmed that the Alberta Municipal Government Act (MGA) does not grant a municipality a special lien for unpaid linear property taxes." Alberta is the only province that has this loophole. Where is the RMA on this one as this appears to be another serious flaw in the Act? Under their "Values" section on the website, it states "RMA is committed to leading in a proactive, collaborative and accountable manner." (Again, how has their collaboration benefited the taxpayer in terms of the issues voiced above.)

After reviewing the stated objectives of the RMA, it seems that the only one that may be of value is one that states "strong rural advocacy and connection with other levels of government."

It seems that the advocacy and connection to other levels of government that the organization purports to espouse does very little for the citizen and taxpayer at the local level.

"Once Upon A Time... I Was a School"

From Allan Goddard

As promised in last weeks Booster, the Breton Museum wanted to give the readers a more detailed history on the building that the Museum has called home since 1987.

As the title suggests, the building started its life as a school house. Museum staff recently came across a newspaper article from the Edmonton Journal dated June 17, 1948 which leads with the headline... "Begin Building $16,000 School" ... "Construction has started on a new $16,000 school for Breton. The school will have two classrooms, a science room, full basement with furnace, playroom and washrooms. It is being built so that two more rooms can be added as soon as funds are available. A well is being drilled and this will dispense with the carrying of drinking water." While the two additional rooms were never added, it is interesting to note that up until then drinking water had to be brought to the school. When Museum Board Member, Bill Flesher, was shown the news article and the price to build the school, he neatly pointed out that there was no electricity or plumbing costs to include in the costs. I have to wonder if it came in on budget?

During the late 1940s several schools were built in surrounding communities that were almost identical. The building occupied by the Warburg Museum is a sister school to the on in Breton, and at Lindale there was another sister school. Although starting as a two-room school, a third classroom along with a science room and staff room were added to the Lindale School in order to accommodate the needs of the community. Until 1954, grades one through eleven were taught there, and it was at this school that I started my schooling. The Lindale school was demolished in the fall of 1991, when a new school was opened at Lindale. President of the Historical Society, Tom Impey recently spoke about attending Breton School when this building opened in 1948. Tom was starting grade 7, and grades 7-9 were being taught in the south room with Mrs. Mabel Mc-Cartney as the teacher. The north classroom contained grades 10-12, and in the centre portion of the upstairs was a science room with a window looking into the north room. In the southwest corner of the south room was a few shelves that contained library books. The building was heated with a large coal fired furnace located in the basement, and when the museum was doing renovations in the basement, about twenty years ago, I wondered why on the north and south walls of the furnace room there were 2X2 pieces of lumber spaced a few inches apart. Again, Bill Flesher had the answer... they were there to allow the heat to radiated out from the furnace and as the heat rose it helped heat the upstairs of the building.

One memory Tom related to Museum Staff was that during the winter, one day a week they would have hot soup for lunch. While the soup had been prepared, it needed to be put on the furnace to heat up for lunch. Each week a couple of students were selected to for this task. Brings a whole new meaning to a hot lunch program!

Over the years, many feet climbed the stairs to their classroom in this building. In 1987, the building was no longer needed as a school, and at the same time the Historical Society was looking for a building to establish a museum. The building was leased from the Leduc School Division and with much dedicated effort from volunteers it was turned from a school into a museum.

Two women were touring the museum a number of years ago, one says to the other, "We use to go to school in this building and now it's a museum, what does it say about us." For over seventy years this building has served the community, first as a school and now as a museum, standing straight and tall we look forward to it preserving the history of the Breton community for many years to come.

Greetings from the Elks

from Allan Smith, Breton Elks Lodge #402

Well hello everyone. Once again another month, another zoom session and another May long weekend. Hope this finds everyone safe, healthy and wealthy. The long weekend proved somewhat rewarding, as many folks were able to enjoy some outdoor action and enjoy some great weather. Grass is growing. Much agriculture ventures are moving forward and flower planting is full speed ahead.

I recently had the opportunity to get the special shot and not from a bottle. All reports point toward a decline in our dreaded Covid action and possibly a return to visits to our favorite coffee shops.

Moving forward to real Elks business, the Lodge has decided to support Gymkhana with a cash donation. Also the Lodge will support our Long Term Care with a donation to the Hydration Cart and a special lift for patient care.

Moving forward to R.V. Park - renovations work is scheduled to begin in early June on expanding water and power to nine more sites. Work is scheduled to be completed by end of June.

The Annual Provincial Conference is scheduled to proceed via Zoom on June 26th.

At the recent meeting of Breton Elks a slate of officers was selected for the coming year. They were installed at this meeting. Congratulations to Jerry Gryzb on becoming our new Exaulted Ruler.

Yours truly has been asked to keep telling you stories, as well as keep track of historical moments. Also congratulations to Brother Neil and Brother Darren for their hard efforts to retain their positions.

In closing, I would like to remind everyone summer is just around the next corner. We all have many B.B.Q.'s to take care of, grass to cut, flowers to prune and stories to tell. The more we care for each other and the more needle shots we get the sooner we can all say it's good to see you again.

Stay safe and healthy everyone.

Will chat again soon.

Preacher's Point

from Pastor leff Gooderham

C.T. Studd, the famous English cricketer and member of the English XI cricket team, gave away his vast wealth and became a missionary a century ago. His slogan was, "If Jesus Christ be God, and died for me, then no sacrifice can be too great for me to make for Him."

"Therefore, I urge your brethren, by the mercies of God, that you present your bodies as living sacrifices, holy, acceptable to God, which is your reasonable service. And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that you may prove what is the good and acceptable and perfect will of God." Romans 12:1-2

from The Office of MLA Mark Smith, Member of the Legislative Assembly for Drayton Valley - Devon

We are finally here.

After 14 grueling months, Alberta's government has announced the Open for Summer plan – a three-stage plan that lays the path to lifting all pandemic restrictions by summer. Based on our plan, Albertans will get back to their normal lives faster than anyone else in Canada.

First and foremost, I want to thank you – the people – for all you have done to protect yourselves and each other from this pandemic. You aren't just helping us slow down the third wave of the virus. You're helping us crush it. Cases are down sharply from peaks in May. Hospitalization and ICU numbers are stabilizing. And the R-value, which tracks how fast the virus is spreading, has fallen from 1.13 when we announced the last series of restrictions to 0.67 now.

So far, over 2.6 million Albertans have received their vaccine. That number climbs higher each and every day. As of today, more than 58 per cent of all Albertans over the age of 12 have had their first dose. With this in mind, here's a look at the three stages we have to go through to get to the best summer ever.

By the time you read this, Stage 1 will likely be in effect. Stage one occurs two weeks after 50 per cent of Albertans age 12 and over have had at least one dose of vaccine and hospitalizations drop below 800. As part of Stage 1, capacity restrictions will loosen for things like worship services, retail and outdoor patio dining. Distancing and masking requirements will remain in effect.

Stage 2 occurs two weeks after 60 per cent of Albertans age 12 and over have had at least one dose of vaccine and hospitalizations drop below 500. We are anticipating this will happen around mid-June. At this point, capacity limits will go up again for worship services, retail and outdoor patio dining. We will also see a return to indoor dining, and increases for outdoor social gatherings, weddings and funerals. We will see gyms open their doors, as well as movie theatres, casinos, museums, art galleries and libraries.

Stage 3 occurs when we reach the 70 per cent vaccination threshold. We are anticipating this will happen around early July. This is the day we are all looking forward to. On this day, all public health restrictions will be lifted.

It is disappointing to know that the NDP want restrictions to last until the fall of 2021. The science simply does not support their view.

As Lorne Gunter, columnist for the Edmonton Sun, said, Premier Jason Kenney's bold reopening plan for Alberta is based on science, not fear.

I am ready for the best summer ever and I hope you are too. I urge you to read more about our Open for Summer plan at Alberta.ca/opensummer. If all goes according to plan, this won't just be a reopening, but a grand reopening for our province.
