Don't Let Anyone Roadblock Your Success

By Amissa Jablonski

Local businesswoman Sabrina Wilde, co-owner and operator of Lone Wolf Mechanical, is riding a high of success, becoming a finalist for the 2021 Alberta Women's Entrepreneurship Awards. Sabrina is humbled by the recognition of her achievements and this nomination means a great deal to her, though she is quick to point out that her recognition really is the result of a whole team effort at the shop.

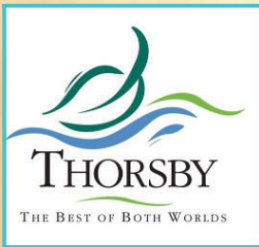

Comfortable taking the non-traditional path, Ms. Wilde is no stranger to male-dominated fields. Prior to coming to Thorsby, she completed her Business Degree at MacEwan University and obtained her Class 1 driver's licence. This licence led her to work in the oil patch, where she quickly learned that, as a woman, she needed to work extremely hard to earn the respect of her male coworkers and that any little mistake would be held against her. She did not let this unfair reality get in the way of her success. Inspired by her father, a Class 1 driver himself, and her mother, who owned several businesses, Sabrina was determined to do what she was passionate about - driving trucks and being her own boss.

Sabrina and her partner, Jim Meyer, started a heavy duty mechanic business in Alder Flats, based out of a service truck. They had been running the business for a few months when the opportunity presented itself to rent the building now home to Lone Wolf Mechanical from Art Burnett. They rented from Art for the first year but soon realized that they would be able to make the town of Thorsby their home and bought it outright. Sabrina and Jim were struck by how welcoming our community was, which was very different from other towns they had been in. They really appreciated how friendly everyone was.

The team at Lone Wolf Mechanical has reflected back this community spirit and gotten involved in Thorsby in turn. Their annual Car Show, this year taking place on August 28, is a huge draw to town and brings lots of interest to the community. They have offered their land to host a community garage sale and market on July 10 and 11, with all the table rental proceeds going to Communities in Bloom. In the winter, they are enthusiastic supporters of Christmas in the Village and are happy to support a community that supports their business. Their recent commercial also featured the snow-covered streets of Thorsby and brought the Lone Wolf Mechanical (and our town) national exposure on WILD TV.

Over the past three years, the business has grown and been recognized for their outstanding work. They have partnerships with the Alberta Motor Association and Air Liquide and were nominated for two Alberta Business Awards of Distinction, one for customer service and the second for mentorship. Recently, Sabrina has teamed up with Thorsby resident, Ashley Gilbert, to create a series of Facebook videos aimed at women wanting to learn more about basic car care and maintenance. This initiative allows her to help empower women to feel comfortable with their vehicles, be more independent, and feel less intimidated when they talk to their mechanic. The videos have been well received and Sabrina is excited to make more.

Ms. Wilde has always taken her own path and not let anyone put roadblocks up in her way. She hopes her success in a male-dominated field inspires women and girls to pursue their passions and dreams, no matter what those around them think or say. Thorsby is lucky to have such an inspiring leader in its midst. We wish her the best of luck both in business and in the 2021 Alberta Women's Entrepreneurship Awards!

MLA REPORT

from The Office of MLA Mark Smith,
Member of the Legislative Assembly
for Drayton Valley - Devon

For decades, Albertans have watched as their hard-earned tax dollars were seized by Ottawa and redistributed among other provinces under a system of Equalization that has siphoned wealth from our job creators and our provincial treasury. In 2019, Albertans elected a United Conservative government to put an end to the Trudeau-Notley alliance and fight for a fair deal for Alberta. Over the course of the government's mandate legislation the Alberta Parole Board has replaced a federally controlled parole board. Once the details of an agreement are finished Alberta, not Ottawa, will appoint a Chief Firearms Officer and Albertans will soon have the opportunity to start addressing the issue of equalization.

Canada's system of Equalization is fundamentally unfair to Alberta, pulling billions of dollars out of our province – even during times of economic recession – and funneling that money into provinces with strong, even booming economies. This includes provinces run by anti-oil politicians who benefit from Alberta's generosity while attacking our economic interests and implementing policies detrimental to our province and our people.

This is why Premier Jason Kenney recently introduced a motion in the Alberta Legislature seeking approval to hold a referendum on whether Albertans think the principle of making Equalization payments should be removed from Canada's Constitution. The motion was debated and passed and a referendum will be held along with the municipal and Senate elections this upcoming fall.

The question facing Albertans in the proposed referendum will be: should section 36(2) of the Constitution Act, 1982—Parliament and the government of Canada's commitment to the principle of making Equalization payments—be removed from the constitution?

If the majority of responses support removing equalization payments, the Alberta government will move forward with pursuing renewed negotiations with the federal government to get a fairer deal for Albertans. In order to make a change to the Constitution, the proposed change must be approved by the federal House of Commons and Senate, and by the legislative assemblies of at least seven provinces, representing at least 50 per cent of the population of all provinces.

Quebec's ability to monopolize the national spotlight and command attention from Ottawa after they held contentious referendums in 1980 and 1995 has demonstrated what can be achieved when people, not politicians, are given the power to decide their future. A referendum on Equalization will be an opportunity for Albertans to be heard and to make a strong statement to Ottawa that Equalization does not work for Alberta.

Albertans are proud of the role our province has played within confederation. With an energy industry that forms the bedrock of our national economy and a competitive business environment unmatched by any other province, we have served as our country's economic engine and a beacon of hope for ambitious Canadians from every region.

Between 2014 and 2019, Albertans made a net contribution of more than $100 billion to the federal government through transfers to the rest of Canada. Over the past 25 years, Albertans contributed more than $400 billion. This is hundreds of billions of dollars from Albertans that is filling the treasuries of hostile governments instead of supporting healthcare, education and families right here in Alberta.

Enough is enough. Albertans are demanding a fair deal in confederation and that is what we will secure with a referendum on Equalization.
