Mobile Mammography Service To Visit Breton This Month

From Alberta Health Services

BRETON — Women ages 50 to 74 — the group most at risk of developing breast cancer — will have local access to mammography services this month when Alberta Health Services' Screen Test program visits Breton.

A mobile mammography trailer will be stationed at Breton Continuing Care Centre, 4919 49 Ave. on Aug. 24 and 25. Residents can book an appointment or learn more about the program by calling toll-free 1-800-667-0604.

A mammogram is an X-ray of the breast and has proven to be the most effective way to detect breast cancer. Early detection allows for a greater number of options for treatment and a better chance of survival.

Due to COVID-19, Screen Test is taking a number of precautions to ensure the safety of clients and staff. Details will be shared when you call to book your appointment. Visit <https://screeningforlife.ca/breast/screen-test-mobile-clinics/> for more information and a complete listing of Screen Test mobile sites.

Alberta Health Services is the provincial health authority responsible for planning and delivering health supports and services for more than four million adults and children living in Alberta. Its mission is to provide a patient-foccused, quality health system that is accessible and sustainable for all Albertans.

Kindness Rocks Wraps Up on August 18th

'Kindness Rocks' is a viral trend where people paint rocks or stones with inspirational messages or sayings. The painted rocks are left in public places for people to find with the intention of spreading kindness and joy to others.

Our final painting session is August 18th so come join us to paint 'kindness rocks' to hide in our community. We will be meeting at Breton Faith Covenant Church (across from the Breton water tower). We have been meeting on the first and third Wednesdays of the month from 7 pm - 8 pm for the months of July and August.

We invite you to attend this last session so bring a special rock to paint, or use one of ours! Painting supplies will be provided. We ask that those under the age of 12 be accompanied by an adult. There are fantastic 'kindness rocks' painting ideas on the internet. Take a look!

Throughout the summer we hid special "Spread Joy" rocks. The person who finds a "Spread Joy" rock will win a summer gift basket! Instructions on how to exchange the rock for a gift basket will be found on the bottom of the rock. For further information contact Holly at 780-696-2065.

“The Matilda Day Quilt”

From Allan Goddard

The history of Keystone, and the African American families who settled Keystone plays a significant role in the mandate of the Breton Museum. However, the museum has only a small number of artifacts that we can document to being owned by a family member of the Keystone community. The “Matilda Day Quilt” is one of these artifacts, and it is cherished by the museum.

Matilda (Bartlett), along with her husband Will Bailey and adopted son, affectionally called Big Eddie, came from Council Grove, Kansas to Edmonton about 1910. Will’s brothers Robert and Ben, Mrs. Bartlett, Matilda’s mother and the Harding family also came with them to Canada at this time. Mrs. Bartlett would return to Kansas a short time later, as she found the climate too harsh for her. The Bailey’s resided in Edmonton for a period of time, but in 1911 they filed on homesteads at Keystone.

Tragedy would befall Matilda when Will succumb to the Spanish Influenza in 1918, leaving Matilda a widow with a small child. In 1919 Matilda married Willis Day at the Funnell school. Their daughter Gwen was born in 1920, we later would know her as Gwen Hooks.

Now back to my story about the quilt. The quilt was donated to the museum by Gwen in 1994. From what little information was documented at the time of the donation, the quilt had been made by her mother Matilda. Gwen thought it had been made in the 1930’s. Lucie Heins, from the Royal Alberta Museum, was conducting a research project about quilting traditions in Alberta. Lucie had seen the quilt on display when she had visited the Breton Museum. In 2015, Lucie travelled to various Alberta museums to document quilts not only in the museum’s collections but from community members. One of her stops was the Breton Museum because of the Matilda Day quilt she had seen on her visit.

Lucie is very knowledgeable on quilting patterns, methods and dating quilts from the materials used. The block pattern used in this quilt is called Aunt Addie’s Album, but what Lucie found interesting was, the quilt is made up of two kinds of quilt blocks. The look of the fabric used in some of the blocks suggest that the fabric pre dates 1910, when Matilda migrated from Kansas to Alberta, where other blocks indicate fabric and patterns from a later period.

While we will never know for sure the whole story about the quilt, it appears Matilda may have started the quilt prior to coming to Canada, and it remained at the bottom of a trunk until she finished it with different materials in the 1930’s. From worn spots in the quilt, it appears pieces of old woolen blankets and underwear was used for the batting of the quilt. While the quilt is not in pristine condition, it shows that it was used, and likely appreciated, keeping away the cold of an Alberta winter.

Preacher's Point

from Pastor Jeff Gooderham

Time of the Mad Atom
This is the age
Of the half-read page.
And the quick hash
And the mad dash.
The bright night
With the nerves tight
The plane hop
With the brief stop.
The lamp tan
In short span.
The Big Shot
In a good spot
And the brain strain
The heart pain.
And the cat naps
Till the spring snaps --
And the fun's done!

This was written in the Saturday Evening Post in the year 1949, but it sure sounds a lot like today doesn't it. A friend from the community mentioned the other day that the most used word in English is the word time. I was amazed by that, but not surprised. We do focus a lot on time, maybe too much. But here is a better way to look at it; take time, but don't waste time. Take time to stop and smell the roses, take time to stop and watch creation, take time to give a smile or a hug, take time to take your kids fishing, take time to visit some one in Long Term Care, take time to just be still. Why are we racing so much? Where are we racing to? Isaiah tells us to be still and know that I am God. It's good for the soul, for the family, for the community. Let's all take our time!

Maverick Party Contending for seats in Federal Election

Todd Muir of the Maverick Party to challenge

the incumbent Conservative in the Yellowhead Electoral District this Election:

Drayton Valley, AB - Election announced for September 20

Todd Muir of the Maverick Party has announced that he is ready to challenge the incumbent Yellowhead MP Gerald Soroka in the September 20th, Federal Election. Todd is a high school teacher in Drayton Valley, where he lives with his wife Thanh, and their two kids. He is running as a candidate because of the fear he has for the future of this country. "Trudeau is putting us so far in debt that our children's children will never be able to pay it off. On top of that the Liberal government is putting road blocks up to stop our Western Natural Resources from getting to Market, while refusing to renegotiate the current equalization formula, which rewards provinces like Quebec while punishing provinces like Alberta. Western Canadians need voices in Ottawa who will stand up for the concerns of their constituents. Who will fight against carbon taxes and fight for a fair deal within Canada which includes fighting for pipelines, and against the Carbon Tax. We need leadership that benefits all Canadians, Not just panders to Central Canada for their votes as Justin Trudeau and Erin O'Toole and their parties do."

The Maverick Party was formed in 2020 as a Western Canadian only party. As part of their guiding principles "Maverick Party Members of Parliament will always defend the best interests of Western Canadians and only support Legislation that benefits their constituents and the West." For more details visit maverickparty.ca.

LEARNING TO LIVE IN THE POWER OF GOD

Some key thoughts from the Bible:

- God loves us all!
- He is here to save us:
  - In eternity (heaven),
  - In issues we face in this present life.
- He does this through relationship. We each play a role.
- Friends, spiritually speaking, we cannot just sit back and hope for the best. Many things happen in this life that are unfortunate and not part of God's good will for us.
- Church is about learning our role and proactively participating in relationship with Him.
- We are learning to live in the power of God.
- We are learning to live in His love.
- His love is a caring, positive, affirming environment.

MLA REPORT

from The Office of MLA Mark Smith,
Member of the Legislative Assembly
for Drayton Valley - Devon

With the COVID-19 pandemic slowing down, Alberta's Recovery Plan is underway. Not only is the plan already working to attract investment back to Alberta – it's creating thousands of good jobs for Albertans right now. According to Statistic Canada's monthly labour force survey, Alberta created 20,000 full-time jobs last month alone. The survey also showed that unemployment has now dropped to 8.5 per cent in our province, which is the lowest level it has been since before the COVID-19 pandemic began. While we have much further to go, this is great news for the outlook of our province, as we begin to look beyond the pandemic and towards the future.

The government launched Alberta's Recovery Plan in June of 2020. Since then, the plan has created over 180,000 jobs for Albertans. This latest report from Statistics Canada shows that our job-creation efforts are really starting to pick-up steam. Alberta's Jobs, Economy and Innovation Minister Doug Schweitzer pointed out recently that the new jobs are not tied to any specific industry but are coming from many sectors of the economy. Building on our strengths while diversifying the economy has been a long-standing goal of our government, and we are not going to slow down.

There is a lot to be excited about right now with respect to our economy. Our province's largest industry, the energy sector, is roaring back to life. Not only is production ahead of pre-pandemic levels – more oil is being produced today than at any time in our history. We are also seeing the rise of new industries like tech and film, which are both on pace for record-setting years. And we are seeing major investments in renewables like hydrogen.

Major economic organizations like the Conference Board of Canada, National Bank of Canada and the Bank of Montreal have forecasted that Alberta will lead Canada in economic growth this year. Now, a new forecast by Alberta Central – the central banking facility, service bureau and trade association for Alberta's credit unions – is projecting that the provincial economy will grow by a whopping 7.5 per cent this year. According to the Alberta Central report, Alberta's economy will grow beyond its 2014 peak and erase all the losses it has experienced since 2015. This is welcome news for all Albertans who have endured nearly seven years of economic downturns and declines. Alberta's Recovery Plan is working and Albertans are going back to work. This is great news for our province. The COVID-19 pandemic has posed the greatest challenge of our time, but in true Alberta fashion, we are set to come out of it stronger than ever.

We have further to go but our economy is moving in the right direction, and it is becoming clearer and clearer every day that our best days are still ahead.

By Becky Allen

It's the New Year, (well, the beginning of a new year without COVID hopefully) and many of us have new goals. It's easy to be motivated with the turn of a new calendar year and the momentum of a fresh start. But how do you really make a change? What do you do when the feeling fades? I believe these 5 "P's" can make or break any goal.

You need a PLAN.

We all want to reach a new destination, but how can we get to a place we've never been before? We need a map, a plan, to reach our destination. If you fail to plan, you plan to fail. Once our goals are defined, we need to break them down into smaller, bite-sized goals. Want to lose 50 pounds this year? That number may seem overwhelming. However, 50 pounds broken down over a year is just one pound per week! You can do that! You just need a plan. Start small, make consistent changes over time, and you'll be much more likely to reach your larger goals.

You need a PURPOSE.

Why is your goal important to you? Losing 50 pounds is a great goal, but why does it matter? Maybe you want to lose 50 pounds before vacation? Do you want more energy and to live longer and create more memories? What's the purpose behind the progression?

Think about what your life will look like when you accomplish this goal. See it. Feel it. Make it so real that your actions align with your new reality. When you know the why, the how is simple. It's hard to get excited about meal prepping or working out, but feeling confident in shorts or running a 5K is what keeps you committed and moving toward your goal.

You need a proper PERSPECTIVE.

There will never be a perfect time to start. We're all facing obstacles in this season of life. Perhaps you just moved, started a new job, or have an injury to work around. Maybe you're dealing with grief, or stress, or feeling like you're living in chaos. We'll always have limitations, but we'll always have ways that we can win, too. In this season of life, what does it look like for you to "win the day?" What can you do today? How can you move your body? Fuel your mind? Make great food choices?

Big goals are important, but we can't get there without daily, consistent wins. Focus on what you can do, what you can control, and work toward your goal 24 hours at a time.

You need to PRAISE your progress.

Celebrate yourself and your accomplishments along the way! The becoming is in the journey. Enjoy what you're learning, how you're growing, and who you're becoming in the process.

Why should we celebrate losing a pound, completing a workout, or running a mile? Not because it's a major accomplishment but because you're proving you can successfully change your habits. Celebrating reinforces good behavior and develops an addiction to progress. The big, life-changing achievements will come as a result of your daily actions. Applaud your small victories as you win each day.

You need PEOPLE.

What's the number one reason people fail to achieve their goals? Lack of accountability from a community. Do you have positive, like-minded people in your life? Are the people in your inner circle pursuing similar goals? Who do you know who has achieved what you currently desire? These are the folks you need in your life. Spend time with people who support and encourage you, those who truly care for you and want to see you win. You can do it!
