Stay Home!

From Mayor Rod Raymond

Here we are, and will be for the next foreseeable future, taking steps to reduce/eliminate the spread of the virus.

A few things surprised me when talking to a few of our merchants. There has been an influx of people from outside our community sourcing basic food items here in town. My first reaction was that they should stay home and buy local. I was assured that all protocols are being followed by our merchants to prevent the spread of the virus. I thought about the fact that Sandi and I used to "sale buy" in other communities. When we do that, we are at a greater risk than a few visitors to town. (Editor's Note: March 26, 2020, there have been 14 confirmed cases in the Leduc/Devon area).

It is beneficial to our merchants to have the increased sales. Please continue to support local. Please continue to keep 6 feet (2 meters) away from everyone (social distancing) for the foreseeable future. It is the easiest way to reduce the spread.

To the pin head who returned from vacation without going into 14 day isolation, and came into the town office to enquire about their water bill; YOU exposed our staff and forced the closure of the town office. To the other Pin Head who returned from Africa and came to buy a furnace motor; YOU risked infecting a pregnant woman!!! For the people who returned from Mexico and wandered around town; YOU are potentially spreading the virus. What is the matter with you people? Don't you care about anyone else but yourselves? Fortunately, no one encountering you, has shown any symptoms, yet.

There is a reason the Premier is considering fines, for people returning and not directly going into isolation. To the young people, having a fire, a few drinks and passing a "doobie" around; what the crap are you thinking? There is a very good chance, you and your friends would survive the infection, but what would you tell grandpa, that it was you, that infected grandma? Take your heads out of your rectum and think about what you are doing. STAY 2 meters away from everyone and do not share self-rolled, stinky smokes! (40 years ago, this self-consumption practice was called "bogarting" and wasn't acceptable: LOL)

Think about this: pretend everyone you meet has just eaten a sardine, onion and garlic sandwich. If you get too close, their breath is so bad it will make your eyes water. Pretend their breath is so bad it would knock a buzzard off the gut wagon. You might need to be "fairly aged" to understand that statement: Wash your hands, do not touch yours or anybody else's face: LOL

We have only one grocery store, one meat market, one bank, one drug store, one hardware store, one tire shop, one HVAC/plumbing shop, one pet food store, one auto parts store, etc. Two liquor stores, two convenience/gas stations.: have some respect to the people who wait on you. Keep 6 feet apart standing in line, put your stuff on the counter AND STEP BACK and only move ahead to pay when they move back. Try to use "TAP AND GO" and avoid cash. If we must close one of these single outlets due to infection, we are all HOOPED! Order take out, to keep our three restaurants in business The 6 foot – 2 Meter rule is to reduce the spread: DO IT!!! BE RESPECTFUL of others!!!

Stay home, stay away from everyone and we will get through this! Everyone must pull together; everyone must look out for their neighbor. Anyone who needs help, can call the town office. This is a small town, with small town advantages, where just about everyone knows everyone. If you know someone struggling, please let us know. Please continue to follow direction from our Director of Emergency Manager (DEM) Wayne MacLean and I will continue to write an update every week and hopefully not have to call out dumb people.

Editor's Note: Self Isolation is mandatory as of March 25th, 2020 for returning travellers

- returned from travel outside of Canada after March 12, or
- are a close contact of a person who tested positive for COVID-19 (provides care, lives with or has close physical contact, or comes into direct contact with infectious body fluids)

If you become sick during this time, you must self-isolate for an additional 10 days from the beginning of symptoms or until you are feeling well, whichever takes longer.

Albertans with symptoms

You are legally required to self-isolate for a minimum of 10 days if you have a cough, fever, shortness of breath, runny nose, or sore throat that is not related to a pre-existing illness or health condition.

Self-isolation period is for 10 days from the start of symptoms, or until symptoms resolve, whichever takes longer.

Enforcement

On March 25, Alberta's Chief Medical Officer of Health issued orders under the Public Health Act to legally require returning international travellers, close contact of confirmed cases, and people exhibiting COVID-19 symptoms to self-isolate.

Law enforcement agencies have been granted full authority to enforce public health orders and issue fines: Through amendments to the Public Health Act, community peace officers and police will be able to issue tickets to enforce COVID-19 public health orders. Fines administered through tickets for violating an order have increased from up to $100 per day to a prescribed fine of $1,000 per occurrence.

Courts will also have increased powers to administer fines of up to $100,000 for a first offence and up to $500,000 for a subsequent offence for more serious violations. These new fines will be in force over the coming days.

If you know someone who is not self-isolating when they are legally required to:

- take proper precautions and distance yourself from the person to limit your risk of exposure if they have symptoms
- remind the person that not following public health orders is against the law and puts people at risk
- notify local law enforcement immediately of any individuals who are not following the self-isolation orders

February 2020 Managing your money: Phil Goddard. IG Wealth Management

The next step for your RRSP is ...

You're turning 71 by the end of 2020 and you know you have some important Registered Retirement Savings Plan (RRSP) decisions coming up. Let's look at the best options for preserving your retirement income and your estate.

The background You established an RRSP back in the day and contributed to it for many years. Good for you - an RRSP is the best tax-saving, income-building investment vehicle for most Canadians and is undoubtedly an important part of your retirement income. But if you turn 71 this year, you are required by law to wind down your RRSP before the end of 2020. You have three basic conversion options to choose from.

Cash out your plan Not a good choice - you'll likely be taxed on the total amount right away at a high marginal rate.

Establish a Registered Retirement Income Fund (RRIF) RRIFs are very much like RRSPs with two exceptions: No further contributions are allowed once you've established a RRIF and you are required to withdraw a minimum amount each year.

The mandatory minimum RRIF withdrawal is 5.28% for a 71-year-old and increases as you get older. There is no limit on the maximum amount you can withdraw although you won't want to deplete your RRIF too soon.

If you find you don't need all the withdrawn funds, you can contribute your RRIF payouts to a Tax-Free Savings Account (TFSA) or a non-registered investment account.

Purchase an annuity There are many types of annuities. Here are three:

- A "life annuity" pays you a specified income, usually monthly, for the rest of your life.
- A "term certain annuity" guarantees payments until you turn 90.
- A "joint and last survivor annuity" will continue payments to your spouse after your death. (But with this option, your monthly payments will be reduced because the benefits are paying for two lives not one. Your spouse can receive the same amount you receive or a lesser amount of your choice).

The right RRSP conversion option for you depends on your personal situation - that's why you should talk to your professional financial advisor before you take the next step.

MOUNTAIN PINE BEETLE UPDATE

Introduction: Last summer (2019) the Thorsby area from the westerly direction and experienced an inflight of mountain pine beetles (MPB) Dendroctonus ponderosae. This winter we have been told there is some trees that have been infected by the MPB. This insect is the most destructive insect pest of the lodgepole pine forest. It is expected that emergence will take place within the next couple of months and a new brood will continue its flight eastward.

What Can You Do?: Alberta Agriculture and Forestry recommends the removal of all pine trees with over 40 pitch tubes. When the MPB population approaches the maximum that the tree can support, the beetles in the tree release a pheromone called verbenone to repel newly arriving beetles. Verbenone can be synthetically produced and acts as an anti-aggregation pheromone which sends the message “No Vacancy”. They should be attached to the north side of the tree between June 15 and July 1st.

Effectiveness: Verbenone has shown to be effective at low to moderate beetle population pressure and is not very effective when the pressure is high. Whether you value your pines as landscape trees or for shelterbelt protection you may want to make the investment to attempt to protect your trees this summer.

The Public Works Department is working on ways to mitigate these nasty critters within Town Limits. Any information please contact me at my Email: wmaclean@thorsby.ca

Straight Out of Thorsby

GLORIA BOSMA (NEE KOBELUCK)

THS Class of '74

U. of A. B.ED '78. Diploma of Ed.

It is so hard to believe that 46 years have gone by since I donned a graduation cap at Thorsby High School! How true it is that the days can be long, but the years go by at a dizzying pace.

I have so many fond memories of Thorsby. How thrilling it was going to the cheese factory for Squeakers cheese, or feasting at Hazel's Café on an order of fries and a drink all for 25 cents! Of course, there were all the parades and the scramble for candy, as well as watching cars endlessly driving up and down Main Street.

I remember when all the "young teachers" began their careers and my own cousin, Sam, became my Biology teacher. At first, it seemed strange, but his brilliant teaching style soon made my reservations disappear.

Mr. Elson taught us the fine sport of football. One hilarious memory I have is when I felt that I finally figured this whole football thing out. I had the ball and everyone was cheering and yelling; what an adrenaline rush! I finally scored...for the other team!

I was unsure of a career path and I recall Sam, with wonderful insight, telling me to pursue education. I replied, "There is no way I am going to spend 12 years in school, another 4 years in University, only to spend the rest of my life in school!"

Well, some 40 years later, I am still in the classroom and loving it! I have been able to teach K-6, at the U of A, facilitate workshops for adults, and my most challenging, but most rewarding position of homeschooling my son.

I also had the opportunity to teach in Mongolia at the Business and Technical College in Ulan Bataar, as well as in the Ukraine at the Teachers' Institute. Now it seems I will have another interesting experience as we embark the new world of online teaching in the light of COVID 19.

I have been blessed by being able to travel through many parts of Europe, Asia, North America and Australia. Being able to experience different cultures is the best education that one could receive.

I married my husband, Ben, in a fairy-tale Christmas wedding. We reside on an acreage in Sherwood Park with our son, Brandon, and 4-legged friend, Bandit.

My son was diagnosed with a genetic disorder called Mosaic Trisomy 18. Unfortunately, because of the label, "Incompatible with Life", many doctors refuse to give medical treatment to these children. Simple things such as oxygen can be denied and parents are told to abort, or take their child home to die. We are working at changing this dialogue and showing that all life is valuable, including those with an extra chromosome. We are making gains in the medical community, as well as the NHS in the U.K.

Brandon is well known in the International Trisomy community for his speeches, videos, and strong advocacy. If you would like to follow him, you can reach out on FB <https://www.facebook.com/BrandonsMosaicTrisomy18Journey/> or through his website @ www.brandonsmosaictrisomy18journey.com

When I'm not teaching or advocating, I can be found at a Toastmasters meeting either competing, instructing, leading, or mentoring. I have completed my DTM and last year competed at the District Level in Saskatoon. This year, I am waiting to compete at the Area Level. COVID 19 is making things a little more difficult.

We are living in a world of unprecedented changes. My advice to any of the upcoming graduates is to spend less time focusing on the negative and more on getting out there and making a difference in our world.

Thanks for all the great memories, Thorsby!

FOLLOW UP NOTE From J.Elson: In 1973 administrative expediency at THS led to the integration of boys and girls in the P.E. 20 class. This lent itself nicely to dancing but not at all to football. As Gloria indicated this sport had an aura of mystery about it and objectives that were not at all clear. When she finally got the ball she made up her mind to "run to daylight". Eighty yards later she was in her own end-zone.

Although Gloria's run left everyone gaping in awe, a precedent had already been set. A few years before, a defensive end, Jim Marshall of the Vikings had run down the '49ers ball carrier who fumbled. In the ensuing scramble Jim scooped up the loose ball and took off. Sixty-six yards later he pulled up in his own end-zone. Much to his chagrin the refs awarded a safety ( 2 points) to the '49ers.

The similarities are easily discerned. On her run, Gloria looked back at least twice to discover no one was in pursuit. In Jim's case the identical thing was true. He was even more perplexed but, like Gloria, persevered in his quest for touchdown glory. The similarities end here. Jim was wearing a helmet, an unknown commodity in Thorsby. The films show that in his efforts to recover the fumble he had received a sharp blow to the noggin, probably leading to his disorientation. Gloria received no sharp blow to the noggin so to any but insiders it is a matter of conjecture as to what led to her romp in the wrong direction. Many among those present that day, looking back over forty-seven years of serious speculation, feel that inadequate instruction in the P.E. class led to what was an avoidable calamity.

Nevertheless the story has a happy ending. Jim put in twenty seasons in the NFL, a near record for longevity. Gloria has had a wonderful career as a teacher, a profession which she loves and pursues to this day in Edmonton.

MLA REPORT

from The Office of MLA Mark Smith,
Member of the Legislative Assembly
for Drayton Valley - Devon

Covid 19 Update

"Alberta is enduring its most serious and disruptive public health emergency in over a century, with the #COVID19AB crisis.

Let there be no doubt - we will spare no expense in the medical fight against the pandemic, and we will win that fight.

We will do everything we can to help Albertans get through the challenging days ahead."

- Premier Jason Kenney, Alberta Legislature, March 18, 2020

We recognize that these are trying times for people and that currently the future seems unclear, however much is being done to mitigate the risk and prepare for the next couple weeks.

The government has declared a state of public health emergency.

We know that measures to reduce the spread of illness will impact the lives of Albertans but they are necessary to limit the spread of this pandemic. The Chief Medical Officer of Health has also reiterated that Albertans take steps to socially distance themselves from each other in their day to day lives.

Several other support measures are being put in place to ease the lives of Albertans at this time;

- Funding support is being provided through Family and Community Support Services for adult homeless shelters, women's emergency shelters and civil society organizations to help keep front-line critical services operating and provide support for vulnerable populations.
- Changes to the Employment Standards

Code have been made to provide job protection for Albertans and support is being offered for both employees and employers.

- Upcoming expiry dates for Alberta drivers' licences, vehicle registrations, other permits and certificates are being extended until May 15.

- Payment deferral for utility and student loan payments is available. Residential customers can defer electricity and natural gas bill payments for the next 90 days to ensure no one will be cut off, regardless of the service provider. Call your utility provider directly to arrange for a 90-day deferral on all payments.

The people of our province should be assured that the Government of Alberta is doing everything possible to address this crisis.

Mandatory mass gathering restrictions

Updated March 25, 2020 from Alberta.ca

Events

No gatherings with more than 50 people are allowed, including:

- conferences
- workshops
- worship gatherings
- family events, such as weddings and funerals

Cancel gatherings with fewer than 50 people if the event:

- includes any attendees travelling from outside of Canada
- has, as its focus, attendees that are members of critical infrastructure or critical service roles (e.g. healthcare workers, first responders, electric/power workers, telecommunications)
- includes attendees from demographic groups at greater risk of severe disease, such as people 60 years of age or older and individuals with chronic medical conditions
- has attendees participating in activities that promote disease transmission (e.g. singing, cheering, close contact, sharing food or beverages, buffet style meals)
- is in a space that does not allow for recommended social distancing (at least 6 feet between attendees)

If you violate this public health order and proceed to hold an event with more than 50 attendees, you may be subject to a fine.

Recreation and entertainment

Albertans are prohibited from attending all public recreation facilities and private entertainment facilities, including:

- gyms, swimming pools, arenas
- science centres, museums, art galleries
- libraries, community centres, children's play centres, bowling alleys
- casinos, racing entertainment centres, bingo halls

The 50-person limit does not apply to essential services or facilities with a large footprint, including:

- businesses and workplaces

- grocery stores
- shopping centres
- standalone retail stores
- health care facilities
- airports
- the legislature
- other essential services

These facilities must still follow risk mitigation strategies.

- Restaurants, cafes and bars
- Buffets are prohibited.
- Albertans are prohibited from attending bars and nightclubs, where law prohibits minors.

The following establishments are limited to 50% capacity to a maximum of 50 people:

- sit-down restaurants
- cafes
- coffee shops
- food courts
- other food-serving facilities, including those with minors-allowed liquor license
- Take-out, delivery and drive-through service is still permitted.

Here you can see it cuddling a Bear.
