BRETON JULY 1ST CELEBRATIONS PAST AND PRESENT

by Allan Goddard, Breton Museum

Well, another July 1st has come and gone in Breton. As I visited with people, at the museum, during the day the conversation turned to past July 1st. Ted Grzyb and Theo Westling wrote a comprehensive article in the "Ladder of Time" history book detailing the history of the Breton Community Club. In the article there is reference to old timers talking of a Sports Day held July 1st, 1926. We do know that by 1929 the Antross community held a picnic at Breton on July 1st. So, it's safe to say that July 1st has been celebrated in Breton for more than 90 years. It seems that the term "Sports Day" was used in the early days when referring to July 1st activities.

The museum's collection holds the record book from the Breton Community Club for the years 1937- 1959. In the minutes from June 1944, they discuss what events would take place on July 1st: included both baseball and softball, tug of war and races of all kinds. Oh, did I mention that horse races were included with an entry fee of $1.00 per horse. For many years baseball was the big event with prize money for the winning teams. Admission to the grounds was set at twenty-five cents for adults with school children admitted free. To round out the day there was a show featured in the Community Hall and a dance at Nelson's Hall on Main Street. Yes, Breton had two halls back then, both hosting a variety of functions, sometimes on the same night. There is a note at the end of the minutes that rain in the early morning delayed the schedule by two hours... "but a good time was had by a record crowd".

Nellie Whalen, daughter of Floyd and Elizabeth Hayes, related a wonderful story about an early Sports Day in Breton when a hundred pounds of flour was put up as a prize, to the largest family. On the day of the Picnic and Sports Day they discovered that they were not the only large family in the community, when another family also showed up with nine children. Now a hundred pounds of flour was a major prize, especially to a large family in those days. The prize was split with each family receiving fifty pounds. Elizabeth was sure the other couple had borrowed someone else's child, and for some time after, whenever she saw the family, she would count their children. She remarked to her husband Floyd some time later... "I guess those children did belong to that couple".

The parade is frequently mentioned as a highlight of the day. Remember Ray and Jenny Ellis and their team of sheep which he had trained to pull a small wagon with them in parades. A visitor to the museum related remembering a Mid Way set up north of the present-day community hall.

While the activities have changed over the years from a focus on sports events, to a gathering with family, friends and old acquaintances, July 1st is still an important annual event in Breton. Here are just a few of the events that come to my mind from the past: the crack of the bat, as both baseball and fastball were major events, horseshoes and horse pulls, bingo in the hall for twenty cents a card, chicken poop bingo, Lumberjack Days, fiddler jamborees and Gwen Hooks' releasing her book Keystone Legacy. Everyone will have their own special memories of July 1st in Breton. After two years of not being able to gather, it was nice to see July 1st in Breton back to normal.

Greetings from Breton Elks Lodge #402

Today I am in my office/study room/computer room admiring the rain that is falling upon us. What a difference from yesterday, which was July 1st. For the first time in two years the community was able to come together under some beautiful sunny skies and enjoy a traditional pancake breakfast in our brand New Community Centre. According to the latest count 500 plus people stopped by to take advantage of the hard work and sincere efforts of Royal Purple Elks and Brother & Sister Elks.

Thank you to all who supported the event and a big thank you to all Elk and Royal Purple Elks for their determination to pull this event together.

Also thank you to Alana who took time to offer her support.

Soul Care

I wanted to pause this week from my Poland series and share my reflections from our family's Canada Day Celebrations in Breton Alberta!

As a newer resident of this little village, it was an exciting day in our home this Canada Day as we got ready to head out to our first Canada Day Parade in Breton!

I believe something magical can be found in a small-town party. As we headed out, we were greeted with many hellos and smiles, oh how I love to see all the smiles, and my heart was so full of gratitude that we get to do this together. The parade was colourful and full of energy and the kids took home a pile of candy to celebrate with. Mainstreet was closed off to traffic and the street was full of adventures to be explored, whether it was the open market, to the ax throwing, the dunk tank or bull riding opportunity, it was all fun to take in.

My highlight was ending the night with the community pig roast dinner! It reminded me of my dad and all the years he organized pig roasts for my fundraisers that I had him roped into!! He would have loved this day.

As I was reflecting on the day a few things were impressed upon me.

First was gratitude. I was grateful that we could do this.

My mom is here with us visiting and she was able to join in on the fun with her grandkids, and also my niece and her family all stopped by our home to take in some fun with us.

The last two years have been hard on many and it was good to be together and celebrate. I will not take for granted or pass up the opportunity to celebrate life with family and friends.

The second thing that was impressed upon me was the opportunity to invest and show up.

I was reminded that it takes being intentional to make things happen. A lot of work and planning went into this town's Canada party, and I wanted to show up and support the community and people behind the scenes. Investing in the community that I live in is important as I have always thought that we need to 'bloom where you are planted'. How else do you get to know your community?

If you went to any of the day's festivities, what was your favorite? My daughter's highlight of the day was the dunk tank and bull riding, and my son's highlight was the candy!

I am excited that I have the opportunity to be here and invest and serve in this community! I cannot wait to see what else we get to do here as I do believe magical things happen in small communities.

God is good.

Breton Word of Faith CHURCH

LEARNING TO LIVE IN THE POWER OF GOD

Some key thoughts from the Bible:

- God loves us all!
- He is here to save us:
 - In eternity (heaven),
 - In issues we face in this present life.
- He does this through our relationship with Him. We each have our own role to play.
- Friends, spiritually speaking, we cannot just sit back and hope for the best. Many things happen in this life that are unfortunate and not part of God's good will for us.
- Church is about learning our role and pro-actively participating in relationship with Him.
- We are learning to live in the power of God.
- We are learning to live in His love.
- His love is a caring, positive, affirming environment.
