A LITTLE HISTORY - THORSBY HOTEL

The Thorsby Hotel is one of the few remaining original buildings in the Town of Thorsby. It was constructed in August 1929 for a total cost of $4,800 which was $1,300 above the estimate. The hotel was strategically located at the "end of steel" or close to the railway. Ed Kelly was the first purchaser of the hotel and he paid a price of $8,000.

In 1940, Andrew Kinasewich purchased the hotel for $12,000 which he operated with his sons until about 1953. The hotel consisted of 13 tables and beer sold for 10¢ a glass. Saturdays were a busy time as this was when families came to town - the ladies shopped at the local stores, the children went to the theatre and the men patronized the bar where all farming, political and community problems were discussed.

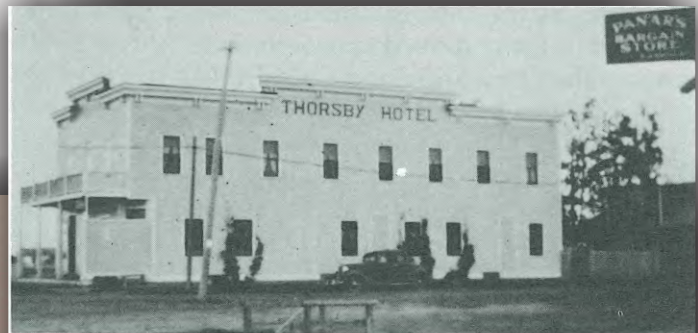

In 1954, the hotel was purchased by Walter Melnyk and O. Lukianchuk for $60,000. They operated it for approximately 16 years and added an addition to the building.

Over the years, the hotel has changed ownership numerous times but continues to remain a monument in the community.

DANGERS OF HAVING DEAD TREES ON YOUR PROPERTY

Trees add a touch of beauty to a landscape, enhancing the natural colors of the landscape but like all living organisms, trees will eventually die. This typically doesn't happen overnight, as some species are capable of living for more than a century but external elements like pests, disease and decay can drastically shorten a tree's lifespan, giving it a premature death. When this occurs, the dead tree may pose a serious risk to you and your family.

Falling Limbs

Among the most common dangers associated with dead trees is the potential for falling limbs. Because the interior of the tree is dry and brittle, there's less weight and structural integrity holding the limbs in place. As such, even the slightest gusts of wind may cause a limb to break off, placing anyone underneath at risk for injury. And as time progresses, even gravity may cause limbs to break off.

Tree Falling Over

It's not just the limbs that tend to fall off of a dead tree. The entire tree may fall over, as well. Depending on exactly where the tree is located, it could pose a danger to both you and your home. Therefore, it's important that homeowners monitor their trees on a regular basis, looking for signs of it being dead.

Signs of a Dead Tree:

Bark peeled away, Discolored leaves, Broken limbs, Large cracks and crevices in trunk, Infestation of wood-boring insects

Dealing with a Dead Tree

When removing a dead tree use caution. If you have a large tree, consider hiring professionals to assist in its removal to prevent risk of injury.

The Town of Thorsby asks that you have a look at your property. If a dead tree is located on your property, please take the necessary steps to have it removed this fall. If we can assist with any questions please don't hesitate to call our office. Thank you.

HAPPY GRANDPARENTS DAY

Just like Mother's day and Father's day, we also have a whole day dedicated to our grandparents. Grandparents have a special connection with children that is proven to both make grandparents live longer, and also make children more emotionally resilient. Grandparents Day is an opportunity to treasure that connection and spend some quality family time together.

History of Grandparents Day

In 1969, nine-year-old Russell Capper sent President Nixon a letter suggesting that a day should be set aside in order to celebrate grandparents. On June 12, 1969, he received a letter back from Rose Mary Woods — Personal Secretary to the President — reading, "Dear Russell, Thank you for your letter to President Nixon. Your suggestion regarding a Grandparent's Day is appreciated, but the President ordinarily issues proclamations designating periods for special observance only when a Congressional resolution authorizes him to do so. With best wishes, Sincerely, Rose Mary Woods Personal Secretary to the President."

Following this letter, Marian McQuade was recognized nationally by the U.S. Senate and by President Jimmy Carter as the founder of National Grandparents Day. McQuade wanted to educate the youth about the importance of seniors and the contributions they have made throughout history. She urged the youth to "adopt" a grandparent and learn more about their lives, challenges, and desires for the future.

In 1977, Senator Randolph, with the help of other senators, introduced a joint resolution to the senate requesting the president to "issue annually a proclamation designating the first Sunday of September after Labor Day of each year as 'National Grandparents' Day'." Congress passed the legislation, proclaiming the first Sunday after Labor Day as National Grandparent's Day. On August 3, 1978, Jimmy Carter signed the proclamation, and the day was finally celebrated the following year. Now this day is celebrated all over the world.

What to do for Grandparents day on September 11

Every family shares their own history and traditions so, naturally, ways to celebrate this day vary. Whether it is going through photo albums, asking grandma to bake your favorite treat, spending time with your grandparents at the park, fixing the car in the garage with grandpa, we're sure you'll find something to do together!

Unfortunately, some grandparents have no one to share the day with. Volunteering at an old-age home is a great way to give back and so are community group projects that help the elderly feel included and like they are a part of a family.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor,

I believe that every person is entitled to their own opinion. I still believe that the town of Thorsby is not what it used to be, contrary to Christina Hughes' recent letter to the editor. That is her opinion. I don't recall hearing her name at any time - I have lived here and been active in the community since 2005 - and yet she reckons that I am very bitter that my partner was not re-elected to council. The loss of votes was a blessing in disguise as it allowed us to resume a normal life.

Christina, I would be pleased if you would contact me in person so we could have a chat over a nice cup of coffee.

I attend council meetings to hear what is happening in Thorsby and what plans are in the works to make Thorsby a better place for all residents.

Where is the town going? I do not know. If you, Christina Hughes, attended council meetings as I have, you might have a different view of what goes on. Apparently Mayor and council have everything under control judging by the length of each meeting. Basically, they usually take up half an hour. On one occasion, the meeting started on time at seven and I was home fifteen minutes later. And yet the frequent in-camera sessions usually last more than two hours.

At the last meeting I was astounded when the reporter for the Target had the audacity to request the resignation of Councillor Gilbert. Isn't it her role to report the news, not to make it? If not, then I and others can request the resignation of three councillors and the Mayor. In the view of many residents Councillor Gilbert is the only councillor knowledgeable and competent enough to keep this council going in the right direction.

Respectfully submitted,
Irene MacPherson
