COMMUNITY INFORMATION

We are currently working on a bi-annual Fall & Winter (September to February) and Spring & Summer (March to August) booklet with information on our communities all in one place called "Community Connections". This booklet is in partnership with the Village of Breton, Town of Thorsby, Village of Warburg, Brazeau County and Leduc County.

If your local non-profit organization, church, community or municipal service wants to be included, please call or text 780-499-9006 or email media@community39.com

Please note: Due to the large volume of research and information, for the first issue we are only including organizations in Breton, Warburg, Thorsby, Leduc County West of Range Road 275 & Brazeau County East of Highway 759 or 761.

Golf Course - Leasehold Opportunity

The Village of Breton is seeking a new leaseholder for the Breton CentraPlex Golf Course. The Lessee would be responsible for all operations of a golf course including the proshop and maintenance of the course. There is some equipment necessary for the maintenance of the golf course on site. Any additional equipment required would be the responsibility of the Lessee. This is a nine hole, 3155 yard, par 37 golf course in a mature treed setting located adjacent to the Breton RV Park (accessible by golf cart). The dance studio, restaurant, ice cream shop, RV park and ice rink located in the CentraPlex are under separate contract.

The Village of Breton is located one hour southwest of Edmonton on highway 20. With a well established membership this course offers an excellent opportunity for someone that loves the sport of golf.

Takeover date would be early 2024. Lease amount would be a percentage of the gross sales.

Sealed proposals with detailed business plans, including the percentage of gross profit you are willing to offer, will be accepted at the Village of Breton office until noon on October 11, 2023.

For more information please inquire by email to cao@breton.ca. Telephone inquiries will not be accepted at this time.

SCHMIDT, Ella Maria

1931-2023

Ella Maria Schmidt, a thoughtful and kind person, who developed lifelong loving relationships with others was born on April 10, 1931 to Erna and Rudolf Schmidt in Bruderheim, Alberta. Shortly after, the family moved to the Morrowdale area where they homesteaded, cleared land and built a house and farm buildings.

Ella grew up on that farm. On July 2, 1952, she married Ervin Schmidt at St. Stephen's Lutheran Church. They farmed on land owned by his parents for a few months in the Strawberry area, but later rented and went on to purchase the farm owned by Ella's parents. There they raised their family and farmed for 55 years until they moved to Thorsby. Later, they resided in Leduc and subsequently moved to seniors' support residences in Edmonton. They were married for 69 years.

Ella lived her final seventeen months at the Gerald Zetter Care Centre (Good Samaritan Society) in Edmonton.

Ella attended Morrowdale grade school and Calmar high school. She took grade 11 by correspondence and passed with honours. She loved to care for and ride horses, write letters to pen-pals, read books and write poetry. In her teens, she and her siblings worked hard on the farm, cooking, baking, canning, cleaning, gardening and feeding animals. She continued to do similar tasks all through her life as a farm wife and mother.

Ella's life consisted of busy years of farming, raising five children, active involvement in the church playing organ, leading the ladies group, singing in the choir, teaching Sunday School, attending school events and acting as chauffeur until the children could drive. She also participated in the Thorsby and Morrowdale communities.

She thoroughly enjoyed writing and was well known for creating personalized poems at special occasions. She made significant contributions to locally published history books, was recognized for one of her poems by winning an international poetry award and wrote her own beautiful memoir entitled "On a Solid Rock".

Ella is survived by children: Dorothy (Randy) Ritz of Edmonton, Noreen (Don) Seib of Airdrie, Rita (Brian) Raffety of Norfolk, Nebraska, Lorne (Hiede) Schmidt of Macau; 9 grandchildren: Elias (Heather) Ritz, Talia Ritz, Duran Ritz (Mackenzie), Victoria Seib, Collin Seib, Marie (Warren) Kucera, Joel (Amanda) Raffety, Garrett (Jen) Schmidt, Christina Schmidt; 4 great grandchildren: Rylan and Kaiden Kucera, Maeleigh and Lincoln Raffety; sister: Emma Provence; sisters-in-law: Irma Schmidt and Lucille Schmidt; as well as nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.

She was predeceased by husband, Ervin; daughter, Christine; sister, Linda Krueger; brothers, Arthur Schmidt and Sieghard Schmidt.

The family thanks the staff at the Gerald Zetter Centre for the loving care they provided for Ella.

In lieu of flowers - donations to St. Matthew Evangelical Lutheran Church, Thorsby, or the Gerald Zetter Centre (Good Samaritan Society) Renovation Fund.

Funeral service will be held at St. Matthew Lutheran Evangelical Church, (5115 48 Ave, Thorsby, AB), on Wednesday, September 6, 2023, with viewing at 12:00 p.m. and service at 1:00 p.m. followed by interment at the Morrowdale Cemetery. Refreshments will be served at the church in Thorsby after the burial.

Back-to-school

For some parents and children, going back to school can create anxiety and stress. It's important to remember that the notion of attending school may not be the main stressor; instead, it may be the separation from home and the child's trusted adult that contributes to the anxiety of back-to-school.

Anxious feelings are normal and expected in children and teens returning to school, changing schools, or for first timers starting kindergarten. The transition to back-to-school can be stressful and disruptive for the entire family.

In the days leading up to school, your anxious child may cling, cry, have temper tantrums, complain of headaches or stomach pains, withdraw, plead, bargain or become irritable or angry.

Worries are common. Anxious children and teens worry about many different school-related issues, such as teachers, friends, fitting in, and/or being away from their parents. Some common concerns include:

- Who will be my new teacher and what if they are mean?
- Will any of my friends be in my class?
- Are my clothes ok?
- Who will I sit with at lunch?
- What if I miss the bus?
- What if math is too hard for me?
- I can't remember anything I learned last year!
- What if something bad happens to mom or dad while I am at school?

Although it is normal for your child to have worries, it is crucial your child attends school. Missing school will only increase your child's fears because it reduces their ability to build resiliency. Furthermore, when children and teens stay home because of anxiety, they miss:

- Valuable opportunities to develop and practice social skills.
- Important chances for success and skill mastery.
- Being acknowledged for their talents.
- Fostering close friendships with classmates.
- Learning basic skills like reading, writing and mathematics.

Five steps to deal with back-to-school worries

STEP 1 Take care of the basics

Ensure your child is getting enough sleep, eating regular meals and healthy snacks and has daily exercise. When your child's mind and body are nourished with a good night's sleep and a decent breakfast, tackling school concerns are easier; your child will be more likely to listen to you and they will cope better when you insist on school attendance.

STEP 2 Provide empathy

Listen to your child's concerns. What is your child worried about? What does your child expect to happen? Let your child share their fears and talk about what is on their mind. Take advantage of the good opportunities to simply listen to your child such as when you are in the car, standing in line at the store, at bath-time or during dinner. For some kids and teens this "casual" method of talking feels less intense and makes it easier for them to express themselves. While others may prefer private time with your undivided attention.

STEP 3 Problem solve

Once you know what is bothering your child, you can start to develop a coping plan. Anxious youth are often poor problem solvers and doubt their ability to cope. Addressing your child's fear head on by creating an active plan with concrete solutions will significantly reduce their concerns. For example, try either of these approaches: "If [the worst] happens, what could you do?" or "Let's think of some ways you could handle that situation." These approaches give parents the opportunity to coach their child on how to cope with (and interpret) both real and imagined situations.

STEP 4 Focus on positive aspects

Once you understand what your child is afraid of, you can create a coping strategy to address their fears and encourage your child to re-direct attention away from their worries and towards the positives. Ask your child, "what are three things that you are most excited about on your first day of school?" Most kids can think of something good, even if it's just eating a special snack or going home at the end of the day. Chances are the fun aspects of back-to-school are simply getting overlooked by repetitive worries.

STEP 5 Pay attention to your own behavior

For parents of younger children or children starting at a new school, it can be anxiety-provoking for parents to hand over care and responsibility of their child to teachers. Children take cues from their parents, so the more confident and calm a parent is, the more a child will believe they can handle this new hurdle. When saying goodbye in the morning, be supportive yet firm. Say goodbye cheerfully – once! Ensure you don't reward your child's protests, crying, or tantrums by allowing them to stay home. Instead, in a calm tone, say: "I can see that going to school is making you scared, but you still have to go. Tell me what you are worried about, so we can talk about it."

Optional school preparation timeline steps

One to two weeks before school

- Gradually return your child to a school-day sleep and wake routine. If your child has been going to bed several hours later than usual and sleeping in during the holiday, roll the clock back by 15 to 30 minutes daily. For example, instead of going to bed at 11 p.m., help your child get to bed by 10:45pm on day one, by 10:30 p.m. on day two, etc. Do this until your child is in bed and asleep at a reasonable time and they are able to get up and out of bed consistently at the appropriate time. You may also need to ask everyone in the family to adjust to the new schedule, so your child isn't the only one making changes.

- Ask your child to help plan school lunches for the first week. You can go to the store together to shop for these items.
- Create a list of school supplies together and plan a fun shopping trip.
- For younger children, go to the schoolyard and play a few times before the first day of school. This can help your child feel more comfortable in his/her surroundings, making the transition of back-to-school a familiar one.

Two to three days before school

- Go to the school several times – walking, biking, driving, or taking the bus. For young children taking the school bus, describe and draw out the bus route, including where the bus goes and how long it takes to get to school. Talk about bus safety.
- For new students, take a tour of the school. Most schools are open a few days before the official first day as teachers are setting up their classrooms. “Peek in” and ask for a quick look around. Show your child the classrooms, the cafeteria and the bathrooms. If possible, meet your child’s teacher with your child present.
- Ask your child to help choose what they want to wear on the first few days.
- Together with your child, pack up the schoolbag the night before, including a special toy or comfort item for younger children who are nervous about separating. A reassuring note in a child’s lunch can also help ease separation anxiety.

The first day of school

- Prepare a favorite breakfast to make the morning more fun.
- Decide who will take your child to school if this is an option. Having your child go to school with a friend for the first couple of days may feel less scary or try driving your child for the first week until they feel confident to take the bus.
- If your child has a history of separation anxiety in other settings, tell the teacher. Most teachers are experts in this area and have years of experience!
- Most importantly, celebrate success! You got this!

Lillian Violet Meade

1946 - 2023

Lillian Violet Meade, born in 1946, in Alsike, was a remarkable woman whose life was filled with love, joy, and cherished moments. She peacefully passed away on August 16, 2023, at the Breton Continuing Care Centre..

Lillian's journey began on a farm in Alsike, where she was raised alongside her beloved sisters and brother. Growing up immersed in the beauty of nature and the values instilled by her parents, Bill and Mary Ollenberg, shaped Lillian into the compassionate and nurturing soul she became known for throughout her life.

She attended schools in Warburg and Breton, where she acquired knowledge that would guide her through various chapters of her life.

Married to Leonard for an awe-inspiring 60 years, Lillian found deep fulfillment within their union. Together they built a foundation of love, respect, and unwavering support that became an inspiration for those around them. Leonard stood by Lillian's side throughout their shared adventure with unwavering commitment and endless devotion.

Lillian's family meant the world to her. She treasured spending time with her loved ones and embraced every opportunity to gather together. Nurturing a close bond with her daughters Caroline, Karen (Colin), sons Robert (June) and James (Elsa), and grandchildren Alana, Mackenzie, Mikahla - each moment spent together was precious to Lillian.

Among Lillian's proudest accomplishments was her ability to create cherished memories with her family. Whether it be holiday gatherings filled with laughter or simply sharing meals every day around the table; Lillian understood the importance of family time and ensured that warmth and love permeated every encounter.

Lillian had a profound appreciation for the wonders of nature. One could often find her indulging in hobbies such as ice fishing or tending to her enchanting flower and vegetable gardens. Her collection of antique lamps was a testament to her exquisite taste and the appreciation she had for beauty in all its forms. Additionally, Lillian cherished the adventurous camping trips she took in British Columbia.

Lillian's love extended beyond her immediate family; she embraced the role of caring sister, sister-in-law, aunt, cousin, and friend. She leaves behind her loving sister Fay and brother Sam, numerous nieces, nephews, cousins, and countless friends who were touched by her vibrant spirit. Their cherished memories of Lillian will forever hold a special place in their hearts.

Lillian was predeceased by her sister, Linda; her son-in-law, Tom Gregg; her brothers-in-law, James Stange, Fred Meade, Clifford Meade, Donald Meade, Bill Pettit; sisters-in-law; Dorothy Meade, Marlene Pettit, and her granddaughter, Andrea Leach-Meade.

In conclusion, Lillian's journey was one that profoundly impacted those fortunate enough to have known her. Her legacy is one of love, kindness, and devotion. May we carry forth the memories of this extraordinary woman whose presence illuminated our lives. Although we mourn Lillian's passing deeply, let us rejoice in the time we shared with her and embrace the lessons she imparted upon us all. Rest peacefully now Lillian for your legacy remains eternally cherished by those whose lives you touched.

The family wishes to express their sincere gratitude to the doctors, nurses, and the staff of the Breton Continuing Care Centre for their kindness, support, and care shown to Lillian during her stay.

Lillian's life will be celebrated on August 31, 2023. A "Celebration of Life" service will take place at the Breton Community Centre located at 48 Street in Breton. The ceremony will commence at 1:00 PM and provide an opportunity to honor and pay tribute to Lillian's extraordinary life. Let us join together in celebrating a life well-lived.

What an amazing sendoff to our summer reading program!

We had 33 young patrons and 10 parents participate in last Friday's Summer Reading Program Windup party.

Starting out with games in the arena, followed up by hotdogs cooked by the Thorsby Lions, and finishing up with draws for fun and fabulous prizes, the windup party was a smashing success.

Huge thankyous to everyone who made this summers TD Summer Reading Club an amazing success.

First and foremost thank you to Mary-Ann Rosenau for volunteering to organise and run programs that kept the fun rolling all summer long. The smiles will stay on our faces long after this summer has ended.

Thank you to the staff of the Arctic Spas Recreation Complex for your kindness, support and assistance. Kelly, Audrey, Makayla, and Denise, we could not have done it without you.

Thank you to the Thorsby Lions for stepping up and making us fabulous hotdogs.

Thank you to all our community supporters who generously donated to help make the TD Summer Reading Club special and fun including:

Large farming equipment on roads

Leduc County is an agricultural community and it is common to see farming equipment on the roads as it is moved from field-to-field. Harvest season is a particularly busy time with large, difficult-to-maneuver pieces of equipment on the move.

Producers, if you will need road signs, please contact Leduc County Road Operations during office hours (Monday to Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.) at 780-979-6185.

We urge everyone to to work safely and take extra precautions during harvest season.

Please drive with attention and awareness to keep yourself and our farmers safe on the road.

CYANOBACTERIA (BLUE-GREEN ALGAE) ADVISORY ISSUED FOR PIGEON LAKE

WETASKIWIN COUNTY – Cyanobacteria (blue-green algae) has been identified in the waters of Pigeon Lake. Residents living near the shores of this lake, as well as visitors to this lake, are advised to take the following precautions:

Avoid all contact with cyanobacterial blooms. If contact occurs, wash with tap water as soon as possible.

Do not swim or wade or allow your pets to swim or wade in any areas where cyanobacteria is visible.

Do not feed whole fish or fish trimmings from this lake to your pets.

Consider limiting human consumption of whole fish and fish trimmings from this lake, as it is known that fish may store toxins in their liver. (People can safely consume fish fillets from this lake).

As always, visitors and residents are reminded to never drink or cook with untreated water directly from any recreational body of water, including Pigeon Lake, at any time. Boiling of this water will not remove the toxins produced by cyanobacteria. An alternate source of drinking water should also be provided for pets and livestock, while this advisory is active.

Cyanobacteria is naturally occurring, and often becomes visible when weather conditions are calm. Appearing like scum, grass clippings, fuzz, or globs on the surface of water, cyanobacteria can be blue-green, greenish-brown, brown, and/or pinkish-red, and often smell musty or grassy.

People who come in contact with visible cyanobacteria or who ingest water containing cyanobacteria may experience skin irritation, rash, sore throat, sore red eyes, swollen lips, fever, nausea and vomiting and/or diarrhea. Symptoms usually appear within one to three hours and resolve in one to two days. Symptoms in children are often more pronounced; however, all humans are at risk of these symptoms. Exposure to the bacteria may be fatal to pets.

Weather and wind conditions can cause algae blooms to move from one location in the lake to another. As such, this advisory will remain in effect for Pigeon Lake, until further notice.

Please note that waters of Pigeon Lake in which the cyanobacterial bloom is NOT visible can still be used for recreational purposes, even while this Health Advisory is in place.

If you suspect a problem related to cyanobacteria or if you require further information on health concerns and cyanobacteria, please call Health Link at 811. Additional information is also available online, at www.ahs.ca/bga.

GREAT TRIVIA

From the Internet

'A SHOT OF WHISKEY' - In the old west a .45 cartridge for a six-gun cost 12 cents, so did a glass of whiskey. If a cowhand was low on cash, he would often give the bartender a cartridge in exchange for a drink. This became known as a "shot" of whiskey.

BUYING THE FARM - This is synonymous with dying. During WW1 soldiers were given life insurance policies worth $5,000. This was about the price of an average farm so if you died you "bought the farm" for your survivors.

IRON CLAD CONTRACT - This came about from the ironclad ships of the Civil War. It meant something so strong it could not be broken.

RIFF RAFF - The Mississippi River was the main way of travelling from north to south. Riverboats carried passengers and freight but they were expensive so most people used rafts. Everything had the right of way over rafts which were considered cheap. The steering oar on the rafts was called a "riff" and this transposed into riff-raff, meaning low class.

COBWEB - The Old English word for "spider" was "cob".

SHIP STATE ROOMS - Travelling by steamboat was considered the height of comfort. Passenger cabins on the boats were not numbered. Instead they were named after states. To this day cabins on ships are called staterooms.

SLEEP TIGHT - Early beds were made with a wooden frame. Ropes were tied across the frame in a crisscross pattern. A straw mattress was then put on top of the ropes. Over time the ropes stretched, causing the bed to sag. The owner would then tighten the ropes to get a better night's sleep.

SHOWBOAT - These were floating theatres built on a barge that was pushed by a steamboat. These played small towns along the Mississippi River. Unlike the boat shown in the movie "Showboat", these did not have an engine. They were gaudy and attention grabbing which is why we say someone who is being the life of the party is "showboating".

OVER A BARREL - In the days before CPR, a drowning victim would be placed face down over a barrel and the barrel would be rolled back and forth in an effort to empty the lungs of water. It was rarely effective. If you are over a barrel, you are in deep trouble.

BARGE IN - Heavy freight was moved along the Mississippi in large barges pushed by steamboats. These were hard to control and would sometimes swing into piers or other boats. People would say they "barged in".

HOGWASH - Steamboats carried both people and animals. Since pigs smelled so bad they would be washed before being put on board. The mud and other filth that was washed off were considered useless "hog wash".

CURFEW - The word "curfew" comes from the French phrase "couvre-feu", which means "cover the fire". It was used to describe the time of blowing out all lamps and candles. It was later adopted into Middle English as "curfeu" which later became the modern "curfew". In the early American colonies homes had no real fireplaces so a fire was built in the center of the room. In order to make sure a fire did not get out of control during the night it was required that, by an agreed upon time, all fires would be covered with a clay pot called a "curfew".

BARRELS OF OIL - When the first oil wells were drilled, there was no provision for storing the liquid so they used water barrels. That is why, to this day, we speak of barrels of oil rather than gallons.

HOT OFF THE PRESS - As the paper goes through the rotary printing press friction causes it to heat up. Therefore, if you grab the paper right off the press, it's hot. The expression means to get immediate information.

There, don't you feel smarter now?
