SINGING FOR YEG TRAVELERS

Our Warburg School Librarian, Mrs. Sarvas, is an Airport Volunteer Ambassador at the Edmonton International Airport (YEG). When YEG staff asked for school choirs to participate in the School Holiday Choir program Mrs. Sarvas was quick to alert our music teacher, Mrs. White, to submit the fantastic singing voices of our Warburg School students. Mrs. Slusarczyk and Mrs. Babcook's Grade 2 & 3 classes were chosen to perform for all of the travelers at Edmonton International Airport (and a few of our WS parents) on December 13th.

This was a great opportunity for the students to experience the airport environment and show their talents to the world!

LIGHTING UP THORSBY

We may not see a white Christmas this year but it still feels like Christmas when driving the streets of Thorsby. Here are a couple of our favorites this year with some more pictures inside this issue. Pictures do not do any of them justice so go for a walk or drive and see if you can find these beautiful displays of festive cheer and so many more. Thank you for showing your holiday spirit for everyone to see!!

Also, don't miss out on Thorsby Lions Winter Wonderland at the Lions Campground going on right now from 6-9pm until December 23. Entry is a cash donation to Christmas Elves. Parking available at the top of the hill. A special treat on December 23 with hot chocolate and Santa Clause coming to visit from 6-8:30pm.

Thank you to the Volunteers for hosting this event in our community.

Happy Holidays from all of us at Connect 39!

Just a reminder, there will be NO CONNECT 39 ON DECEMBER 29. See you in the New Year!!!

SENIORS GRANT PROGRAM

For community-based projects

The seniors grant program supports projects/ programs/events that enrich the quality of life and enhance the health and well-being of seniors within Leduc County. The program is designed to provide funding support to organizations and volunteer groups who will create opportunities for Leduc County seniors to connect, engage and contribute to their communities. For the purpose of this grant, the term "senior" will refer to any person of, or over the age of 55.

Eligible organizations or groups can apply for funding for projects/programs/events that are either led by seniors or driven by seniors' ideas and interests.

A maximum of $15,000 base funding will be provided by Leduc County to be distributed to suitable applicants. The amount per funding request is not capped; however, we suggest requesting an amount that is consistent with the size of the project/program/event and the number of people positively impacted.

Please note that projects, programs and events must be provided to seniors within Leduc County.*

Grant applications must address one of the following priorities:

- ▶ Aging well
- ▶ Inclusion and diversity
- ▶ Connection and engagement

Applications will be accepted from Jan. 2 to Jan. 31, 2024. You can learn more about the program – including how to apply – at leduc-county.com/grants.

Please reach out to discuss your idea prior to applying. We will support groups to submit successful applications!

Dash Away All

'Twas the day of the meeting, when all through the town, TOPS members were hoping their weight would be down.

Because they'd learn on the scale at TOPS Club that night if will power had won over "good" appetite.

Their calorie count had been kept with great care in hope that the secret of weight loss lay there.

I'd cleaned up my house, and I'd made all the beds while visions of slenderness, danced in my head.

I dreamed of how nice 'twould be if I were thin-of wearing a crown, and the trophies I'd win.

When out of the street there arose such a clatter, I sprang toward the sound to see what the matter was.

I raced through the house-at my weight, pretty fast and I managed to get to the front yard at last.

When what should appear to my wandering eyes. But a bakery truck filled with breads, cake and pies.

With a driver whose wares held such wild fascination, I knew in a moment his name was Temptation!

He went through his goodies with pride and acclaim as he whistled and shouted and called them by name.

I jumped back to my porch. With resolve I stood tall- Then yelled, "Dash away, dash away, dash away all!"

You'll not tempt me with high cal-rie delights. I've got to weigh in at my TOPS Club tonight!

So off down the street the big truck fairly flew with Mr. Temptation and his cargo too.

Had I eaten his offerings I'd have to explain how I happened to weigh in that night with a gain.

At the meeting that evening it was plain to see the Weight Record Keepers were busy as bees.

The weigher said, "Come on, you're next", There's no doubt. I was feeling so nervous I thought I'd pass out. But a wink of her eye and a nod of her head soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.

She spoke not a word but went straight to her work and wrote down my loss. Then I turned with a jerk.

I gave a big sigh and a long, happy whistle, and I pranced on my toes like the down from a thistle.

And all heard me exclaim as I smiled with delight, "I lose and I'll lose again next meeting night!"

FEDERAL ELECTRIC VEHICLE MANDATE

Premier Danielle Smith issued this response to the federal zero-emission vehicle mandate:

“Alberta’s government supports reducing emissions from the transportation sector and supporting Albertans who wish to drive lower-emissions vehicles. However, these efforts must be led by and support consumers and businesses, and the federal government has no legal or moral authority to tell Albertans what vehicles they can and cannot buy.

“Alberta has already purchased and is working with municipalities and industry to explore the use of hydrogen-powered vehicles in our provincial transportation fleet and evaluating options to increase hydrogen fuelling stations across Alberta. We’re funding pilots that are testing long-range hydrogen trucks for industry and buses in major cities. We’re working with the same partners to improve access to EV charging stations. The federal government should rein back its failed command economy tactics and work with us on a consumer-based market approach that is achievable and doesn’t hurt people.

“And yet, in another show of total disregard for the well-being of Canadians, the federal government has unilaterally imposed an unconstitutional edict with a bizarrely impossible timeline that will result in massive increases in the cost of vehicles and utility bills, vehicle rationing and wait lists, increased costs to businesses and elevated difficulty and safety risk for hundreds of thousands of Albertans and Canadians just trying to get to work and family activities in our unpredictable, and often cold, climate.

“The sheer hypocrisy of this announcement is astounding. To date, the federal government’s EV approach has been a disaster. The independent federal commissioner of the environment and sustainable development found Ottawa is failing to meet its current target of making 80 per cent of the federal government’s fleet vehicles net zero by 2030. The federal commissioner found that if progress continues at the current rate, the federal government will reach only one per cent of its target by 2030. Not only are there not enough electric vehicle chargers, Ottawa doesn’t even know where EV chargers are needed. The federal government will fail to hit its target even where it has complete discretion, and yet it plans to mandate similar targets on consumers throughout all of Canada.

“Although it seems rather obvious to say, emissions targets and regulations must be realistic, achievable, and cannot result in multiple severe harms to millions of Canadians. A federal government that can’t transition its own fleet to EVs should not be telling Albertans and Canadians to do what even it is unable to do.

“It’s also deeply concerning that Ottawa is trying to force increased demands on the electricity grid while simultaneously weakening Alberta’s and other provinces’ grids through their federal electricity regulations. Our electric grids are not equipped to handle the massive demand surge that a forced full-scale transition to EVs would need to accommodate the delusional timelines in Ottawa’s regulations, and the federal government has not provided remotely enough financial assistance to assist provincial grids to meet this mandated electricity demand.

“Further, these new regulations will result in a shortage and rationing of traditional vehicles starting in 2026 and even earlier, as millions of consumers in need of combustion engine vehicles, especially those living in smaller municipalities that commute long distances, will be unable to power or afford an EV but also won’t be able to find an appropriate vehicle to drive in their circumstances. Apparently, the federal government doesn’t understand that freezing with their families in -30 C on the side of a rural road is not an option for Albertans.

“There is a way to encourage Canadians to drive more EVs, hydrogen-powered cars and other low-emission vehicles. Instead of telling Canadians how to spend their money and lining up for the right to purchase what they need, the federal government should focus on helping provinces develop infrastructure and advance technologies that are more suitable to Canada’s long distances and cold weather.

“Canadians deserve more than destructive virtue-signalling regulations and unachievable targets. Unfortunately, this federal government continues to show that it is all rhetoric and no substance. This approach does not serve Canadians and it won’t protect the environment.

“The Government of Alberta will do everything within its legal jurisdiction to thwart implementation of these unconstitutional regulations in our province.”

✝ Stories of Life by PK

WHAT KIND OF GIFT ARE YOU GIVING?

When looking for that perfect gift, as if there really is one, you ask yourself if they already have one. You wonder if it will fit or if the colour is right. Will it work? But the question that haunts you the most will they like it? What if the "simple" instructions for assembly are contained in a 40 page booklet?

Gift giving has always been such an important expression at Christmas, a way of telling someone that we love them and that they are an important piece of our lives.

What kind of gift are you giving this year? There seems to be a few types of gifts that can be given.

1. There is the "give to get" kind. The kind of gift that you give someone early so that they will have the time to go and get one for you in return. The purpose of giving this kind of gift is obviously the give-to-get kind.
2. Then there is the "giving out of duty" kind. "Well I have to give this gift to my boss, even though I can't stand him." This is the begrudging gift.
3. Then there is the "gift for future favours" one. There may be a layoff coming up and maybe this will spare me. This gift is given with a "now they owe me" attitude or expectation. The gift is often received with complete surprise by the recipient, since they have not ever seen your kindness before. But what they do not know is that in four weeks you are going to be moving across town, and their large cargo trailer would be perfect for the job. That is, if they would consider lending it to a Christmas gift-giving friend.
4. Now, here is the gift that I trust that we will all be giving this year, "the gift from the heart" kind. The unconditional gift that is given with no thought of reciprocation, no hidden agenda attached under all the pretty paper. Given out of love and respect. A gift that doesn't cry out, "this is going to cost you!"

At this time of year our hearts go out to those less fortunate than ourselves. It seems that a lot of hard hearts are softened for a time. My prayer is that the true meaning of Christmas will penetrate your heart and speak directly to you this Christmas. We set this day aside as the day that Jesus was born in Bethlehem. We must remember that this birth, besides being a miracle, was truly God's ultimate gift to us. A gift that has never stopped giving. This is summed up perfectly by the well-known scripture, "For God so loved the world that He GAVE!" He "gave his one and only Son, that whosoever believes in Him will not perish but have eternal life." By the way, you are a whosoever! Allow God to make this your best Christmas of your life. Under its wrapping is the gift of life forever. Truly, the gift that keeps on giving!

Laurie's Laughs

The biggest step in any relationship isn't the first kiss...

It's the first fart.

last Christmas I gave you my heart, and the very next day you texted me "k".

Gonna go lay under the Christmas tree to remind my family that I'm a gift.

Women will never be equal to men until they can walk down the street with a bald head and a beer gut, and still think they are sexy.
