VOTE FOR NEW HUMBLE

New Humble Community School Association has been nominated to receive the BASF Growing Home $25,000 prize! They are one of three finalists in Alberta and they need your votes.

Growing Home with BASF supports agricultural Communities in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario with four $25,000 prizes. Organizations are nominated and 3 finalists from each province are selected for public voting.

New Humble Community School is a public charter school located north of Calmar on Highway 795. NHCS offers a unique learning experience through the use of agriculture, environment & stewardship as an instrument for experiential hands-on learning. Here is their story.

“New Humble Community School Association

At New Humble Community School Association, we believe not all classrooms have four walls, and not all students learn in the same ways. Proudly located in rural Leduc County, NHCSA offers a unique learning experience using agriculture, environment and stewardship as an instrument for experiential hands-on learning. NHCSA works diligently to tie agricultural literacy into their charter goals to help develop skills and strengthen interest in the agriculture sector. We are committed to fostering the growth of each individual student, and we recognize and celebrate the importance of agricultural literacy and getting kids outside to learn and grow and get their hands dirty. NHCS currently offers ECS through grade six and winning the BASF grant would help NHCSA expand the grades offered, and enhance experiential, hands-on programming for current and future students”

Voting is now open so cast your vote before April 15 to support this great initiative!

The importance of family mealtime

Family mealtimes are important to have, but the logistics of having regular meals together as a family can sometimes be difficult! Parents who work late and have extracurricular activities scheduled around dinner time are two of the top reasons why family mealtimes can be hard to schedule.

Research has shown many positive benefits to eating together as a family. According to www.parentfurther.com, teenagers who do not eat dinner with their family are twice as likely to use tobacco and alcohol and more likely to use marijuana. Children's grades in school are also impacted by family mealtimes. Those who have five to seven family dinners a week are more likely to get As and Bs in school, while those who have fewer than three family dinners per week are twice as likely to receive Cs or lower.

You can make mealtimes count by talking about what is going on in your lives, discussing current events, or even telling jokes. Find ways to make mealtimes fun! If schedules don't allow for family dinners, be creative and try a family breakfast instead. It doesn't matter what meal you eat together, what matters is doing it as often as you can and making the time worthwhile!

Include your children in meal planning. They will be more likely to eat the meal together if they have had a say in what they are eating, especially if they have been able to participate in shopping and/or preparing the meal. Create some rules for mealtimes. Come up with your own or use these ones:

1. The dinner table is a tech-free zone. No phone calls, texting or watching TV.
2. Everyone must contribute to the conversation.
3. Everyone has a role to participate (preparing the meal, cooking, setting the table, etc.)
4. Everyone sticks around to help clean up!

When you aren't used to eating together as a family, it can sometimes be a struggle to come up with conversation topics. A helpful tip is to keep questions open-ended, so you avoid the dreaded yes or no answers. One way to make conversations easy is by creating a conversation jar. Google conversation starters and add each idea onto a piece of paper and put it in the jar. At dinnertime, take turns picking a topic and everyone discusses. A few sample conversation starters are below:

- What makes you happy?
- If you had one superpower, what would it be and why?
- If you had a genie that could grant you three wishes, what would they be?
- Share one good thing and one bad thing that happened to you today.

- What did you do to help someone else today?
- How did you see someone showing kindness to another person today?
- Who is your favourite adult? Why?
- What do you think heaven is like?
- Would you rather travel back in time or into the future?
- What is your dream vacation?

For more information on child development or about our programs, visit us at our Thorsby Family Resource Network (FRN) site. We are located at 4908 48 Street in the modular across from the Arctic Spas Recreation Complex. We are open for drop-ins on Tuesdays from 2 to 8 p.m. and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. You can reach us at 780-979-2385 or frn@leduc-county.com.

RAISING AWARENESS FOR COSTELLO

by Candice McClean

We invite you to join us on May 4, 2024 for a fun, family event "Cookie Run: Run, Walk Roll for Costello". This is a 5 km walk/run/roll around Thorsby where participants will receive a cookie at every kilometer.

All proceeds from the Cookie Run will go towards the Costello Syndrome Family Network (CSFN) which is a non-profit organization that provides support to families affected by Costello Syndrome, raises awareness about this syndrome and promotes research into the causes and manifestations of this disorder.

So, what is Costello Syndrome? That is exactly what we wondered when our daughter Charlotte, was diagnosed with this genetic disorder a few months after she was born. The CSFN describes Costello Syndrome as: "...one of the rarest of the rare syndromes and is estimated to occur in 1 out of every 300,000 births. Even though this syndrome is seriously rare, we are here for you if you are seeking support and information. We are an active network of families who are willing to share and help."

Costello Syndrome affects approximately 1 in 300,000 births. They estimate there are approximately 400-1000 people worldwide diagnosed with this disorder.

Costello Syndrome affects all areas of the body. Some of the major issues a person with Costello Syndrome may develop include:

- Failure To Thrive
- Heart Issues
- Cancer
- Orthopedic Issues
- Endocrine Issues
- Vision Issues
- Developmental Delay
- Dermatological Issues
- Neurological Issues

There is no cure for Costello Syndrome but through the work of the CSFN, and with the collaboration of doctors and researchers, there have been many important findings and protocols developed that have directly impacted and helped those living with Costello Syndrome. For example, children with Costello Syndrome have an increased risk of cancer and so a protocol was developed directing that children with Costello Syndrome should have cancer screening via ultrasound every 3 months until they are 12 years old.

While there are a lot of medical issues that individuals with Costello Syndrome must face, they are known for their sunny personalities and charm. If you've seen Charlie around town, you'll agree with this description.

If you want to learn more about this genetic disorder, you can go to the CSFN website:

www.costellosyndromeusa.org/

Thank you and we hope to see you at the Cookie Run!

It's back to school now Spring Break is over, and garden planning is front and centre!

Communities in Bloom has once again brought an amazing gift of seeds to the library to help us get our gardens glowing. Stop by to find the plant you've been wanting to try, and bring your own extra seeds (in sealed bags or envelopes please) to share with others.

Thanks to the amazing volunteers who make this possible.

We also want to thank the teens who joined us for the Board Game Café Wednesday, March 27. You made it a fun afternoon for everyone who stopped by the library.

Library patrons who are "elementary school" aged are welcome to stop by the library Wednesday, April 10 for the always fantastic Library After School Adventures with Audrey. There will be stories, crafts, book talk and of course snacks!

Keep a space on your calendar for the Spring Tea: garden Conversation and Seed Share, Saturday, April 20 from 1:00 to 2:30. It's a chance to share tips and tricks of gardening with your friends and neighbours while enjoying a cup of tea and snacks. There will of course be gardening related activities for younger patrons as well. We are also honoured to be able to celebrate the publication of a first novel, "Not Just a Man's World Anymore" by local author I.D. Foster.

The English Language Conversation Circle is up and running, Wednesday evenings starting at 6:00. If you or someone you know could benefit from English language support, call the library to let us know you are interested, or simply drop by for more information.

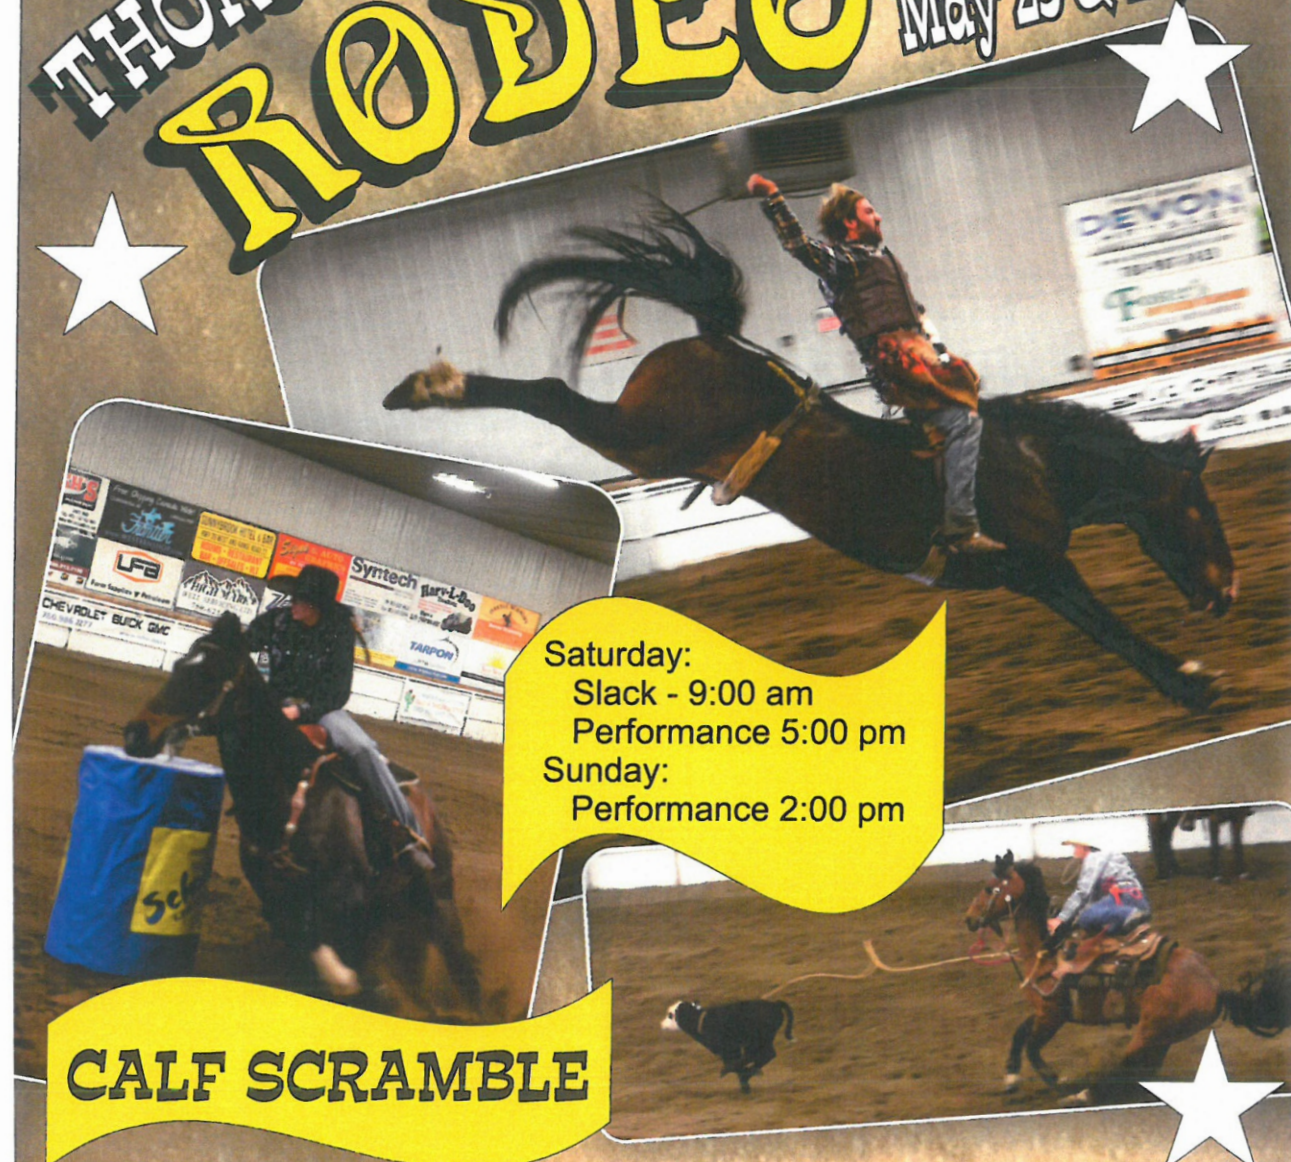

The leathercraft Makerspace is up and running for April, so come by to experiment, develop your skills, and have fun hands-on with the tools and materials at hand.

See you at the library!

KEEPING LIFE AFFORDABLE FOR SENIORS

Alberta News March 28, 2024

Alberta's government is fulfilling its promise to provide seniors with a 25 per cent discount on personal registry services.

Many seniors rely on fixed incomes and the ongoing high cost of living means more pressure in their daily lives. Alberta seniors should be able to rely on stability and have confidence that their government is working to keep life affordable for them.

To help keep life affordable for seniors, Alberta's government is delivering on a promise to bring in a 25 per cent discount on personal registry services. It is anticipated this will benefit more than 725,000 Alberta seniors.

"Last year, we promised Alberta seniors we would reduce their costs at registry offices and on April 1, we're doing just that. Every dollar Alberta seniors save through this measure is another dollar back in their pockets that they can better spend on other priorities." Danielle Smith, Premier

As of April 1, when seniors visit their preferred registry office, they will be eligible for the discount on services like vehicle registration renewals, driver's licenses, standard plates, and vital statistics products like marriage licenses. Eligible seniors must be a resident of Alberta and 65 years or older on the day they purchase the registry service or product.

The discount will be applied to a range of personal registry services at Alberta registry agent offices. Seniors purchasing personal registry services online through MyAlberta eServices will also be able to access the discount.

"Delivering on this promise was a major priority for our government. Over the past few years, rising prices have made it difficult for many seniors to make ends meet. The discount will provide some modest relief for seniors, many of whom are on a fixed income, and make life more affordable." Dale Nally, Minister of Service Alberta and Red Tape Reduction

"The seniors' discount will benefit more than 725,000 seniors. As the fastest-growing age group in Alberta, many seniors rely on income support to meet basic needs and age safely in their homes. Putting money back in their pockets will make their lives better." Jason Nixon, Minister of Seniors, Community and Social Services

As part of Budget 2024, the seniors' discount on personal registry services will mean annual savings of $16.5 to $20 million for the 2024-25 fiscal year. Those savings mean Alberta seniors will keep more of their money in their pockets that they can allocate to other needs.

"The compounding effects of inflation have forced seniors to make difficult decisions to make ends meet. Implementing a seniors' discount on license renewals and registration fees is a concrete action that will provide much needed relief to their pocketbooks. We applaud the Minister of Service Alberta and Red Tape Reduction for finding a way to reduce the cost of these services for Alberta seniors." Sheila Hallett, executive director, Edmonton Seniors Coordinating Council

"Providing seniors with discounts on registry services and medical driving tests not only eases their financial burdens, but also promotes their well-being and independence." Joel Sinclair, co-executive director, Calgary Seniors Resource Society

"This initiative will be helpful for many people, including a number of our volunteer drivers who are 65+. These volunteers give back so much to help our clients to access services and to age well. A reduction in fees is helpful to keep these volunteers on the road!" Liza Bouchard, executive director, Drive Happiness Seniors Assisted Transportation

The seniors' discount is supported by Budget 2024, a responsible plan to strengthen health care and education, build safe and supportive communities, manage the province's resources wisely, and promote job creation to continue to build Alberta's competitive advantage.

Quick facts

- The seniors' discount does not apply to corporate and business services, personal property services, commercial vehicle registrations, or optional products such as personalized and specialty licence plates.
- The discount will not apply to enforcement measures like speeding tickets.
- The discount will not be applied to transactions that took place prior to April 1.
- Registry agents have a complete list of services eligible for the discount.

March is fraud prevention month due to increased activities surrounding the filing of taxes. Scammers love to take advantage of people in stressful times, and that doesn't only happen in March. Thorsby and Breton RCMP want to share some fraud prevention tips to help you stay protected all year!

FRAUD Prevention Tips:

- If you receive random emails asking you to click links....DON'T DO IT!!
- If you receive a text message from a random number claiming to be your child or grandchild needing help because their phone broke and they can't access their online banking....CALL THEM ON THE NUMBER YOU USUALLY DO PRIOR TO ENGAGING IN THE CONVERSATION OR SENDING MONEY!!
- If you are offered an "investment opportunity" that requires you to pay large amounts of money up front with the promise of making double or triple....RESEARCH THE COMPANY FIRST!! MOST COMPANIES ARE NOT GOING TO ASK YOU TO SEND AN E-TRANSFER!!

- If you receive emails claiming to be the CRA or your bank.....CHECK THE EMAIL ADDRESS FIRST!! Banks and the Canada Revenue Agency do not send emails asking you for money. Be safe and call before you click!!
- If you enter into a new relationship online or over the phone and the person wants to develop a quick relationship or profess their love quickly then asks you for money for travel expenses to come see you in person....DO NOT SEND MONEY ASAP!! Video call them, get to know them and make them wait. Loneliness is something scammers prey on – protect yourself and make sure you are dealing with a real person.

Fraudsters like to use time to their advantage. They will often make demands and tell you something needs to happen ASAP or the opportunity will pass. They will grill you with questions to learn more about you to use in future scams. They try to make every conversation seem genuine, but there is usually a panic element to try and make you act fast and send money before you think things over.

Not every call from an unknown number or email you receive is a fraud, but those are the most common ways to reach victims.

Things to Remember:

- You are not alone, lots of people are being victimized by fraudsters daily
- Do not be embarrassed, seek assistance right away
- Legitimate companies will never ask you to send money via iTunes or Google Play gift cards
- If someone claims to be your family, make the call and confirm
- Fraudsters work in teams, so when you hang up on one, another one will contact you claiming to want to help you and investigate the fraud – Deal with your bank and the police yourself, not with a random "helper" over the phone

The Canadian Anti-Fraud Centre collects information on fraud and identity theft. They provide information on past and current scams affecting Canadians. If you think you're a victim of fraud, report it!

KEEPING ALBERTA INVASIVE MUSSEL FREE

by Rebecca Schulz, Minister of Environment and Protected Areas

Zebra mussels are one of the world's most invasive aquatic species. These fingernail sized, freshwater invertebrates have a hardshell and look a bit like a clam.

An infestation of zebra mussels can cause millions of dollars of damage, compromising water intakes, dams, water treatment plants and other infrastructure. Commonly spread by boats travelling across borders, zebra mussels pose a threat to Alberta.

For nearly 10 years, Alberta's inspection program has kept Alberta zebra mussel free by inspecting boats at international and provincial borders.

Zebra mussels have been detected in Ontario, Quebec, and Manitoba. Alarmingly, there has been an increase in the spread of zebra mussels in Manitoba and neighbouring Idaho. And recently, Parks Canada moved to restrict watercraft in Alberta's Waterton Lakes National Park.

In order to confront this growing threat, Alberta's provincial budget increases the number of inspection stations, inspectors and expands the K-9 dog inspection team.

Our government is also calling on the federal government to require the Canadian Border Services Agency to conduct mandatory inspections and decontaminations of all boats entering Canada from the United States.

Alberta will also launch a new task force to examine further restrictions on transporting boats, increased fines, and other actions that can be taken to build a firewall between this invasive species and our lakes, rivers, and infrastructure.

You can act too. Remember to clean, dry, and drain your watercraft, trailer, and gear and always stop at boat inspection stations, which have been mandatory in Alberta since 2015.
